MARY BALDWIN

VOL. XXXV NO. 3

SUMMER 1986

Golden Reunion

Mrs. Erskine Sproul
41 Woodland Drive
Staunton
Virginia 24401

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

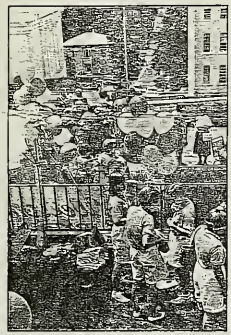
http://www.archive.org/details/marybaldwin1986summer

MARY BALDWIN
VOL. XXXV NO. 3 SUMMER 1986

Weekend Unites Graduates & Alumnae



PARADE OF CLASSES

A highlight of the day was the Parade of Classes across campus led by a bagpiper, Dr. Ralph Mawdsley, of Lynchburg, Virginia, and Vickie Simons '76, Homecoming Queen. The reunion classes and the Seniors, dressed in their class colors, carrying banners, signs, and balloons, and singing their class songs entertained a large audience as they marched to Page Terrace for the National Alumnae Association meeting.

The agenda of the Alumnae Association meeting included the election of officers and new members to the Alumnae Board, recognition of reunion class chairmen, presentation of reunion class gifts, and attendance awards.

The Class of 1936 won the award for having the highest percentage of its members attending their reunion with 23.8%. With 19 classmates, they also had the largest number of alumnae ever attending a 50th reunion celebration.

The tenth reunion class, 1976, numbering 39, won the award for the largest number of class members present.

In addition to reunion class gifts by the Classes of 1976, 1961, and 1936, two special class gifts were presented.

Pam McCain Pearce of Charleston, South Carolina, representing the Class of 1981, presented their Annual Fund gift in memory of Julia Martin Holland, a classmate who was killed in a car accident last fall.

On behalf of the Class of 1963, Carpie Gould Coulbourn presented a check for $10,000 in memory of Emily Wirsing Kelly. (See related story page 7)

HOMECOMING NOTES

Sunny skies, brightly colored balloons, and a feeling of celebration filled the campus for Alumnae Homecoming and Commencement Weekend. Over 300 alumnae and friends represeating ten reunion classes enjoyed the weekend activities May 30-June 1.

Alumnae and their families began arriving Friday afternoon, registering at the Welcome Tent near Hunt Hall.

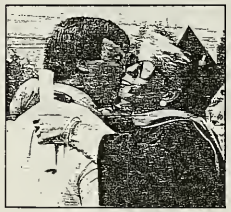
A wine and cheese rendezvous occurred that afternoon at the Alumnae House, where former students and faculty members gathered for three hours of serious catching up.

An enormous buffet supper awaited participants in the Student Activities Center, where seating was arranged by class and alumnae visited among themselves and members of the faculty and staff.

Nineteen alumnae, students, and guests started the Saturday morning activities with the fourth annual Baldwin Run. This year's race included both a three-mile run and a one-mile run/walk. Winners were Patsy Trevillian '86, Women's 3-K; Jan Malinowski, husband of Liz Laffitte Malinowski '81, Men's 3-K; and Catherine Bogden Haroney '81 and Sylvia Back Lynn '83, one-mile race.

The classrooms in Deming Fine Arts Center were filled for the "Saturday Morning Live" seminars. Dr. Kenneth Keller, associate professor of history, gave a lecture and slide presentation on the ever-popular History of Mary Baldwin.

Dr. John Mehner, professor of biology, delighted former ornithology students with his presentation on "Birds of the Shenandoah Valley."



COMMENCEMENT 1986

Two hundred and six degrees were conferred upon Mary Baldwin's Class of 1986 during the 144th Commencement Exercises June 1 on Page Terrace.

Karen Brammer Austin '72 delivered an animated, memorable commencement address to the graduates and a crowd estimated at close to 900.

Ms. Austin, an actress who works frequently in television, film, and on the stage, urged the graduating seniors to follow their individual passions.

"I think each person has a unique and essential passion," she told the graduating seniors. "It is an innermost compulsion born of a purpose larger than ourselves, out of which we contribute to the world and therein find satisfaction and true success. Passion is the source of will and discipline and commitment. It will even override the big one: indecision."

"Taking risks may be uncomfortable, but don't look for comfort in this world," said Ms. Austin. "Risk separates the mundane from the brilliant. That's why this college will continue to succeed. It takes risks in its development."

The graduates were told to define success on their own terms, and not to fear the possibility of failure.

"A life spent in making mistakes is not only more honorable, but more useful than doing nothing," she said, quoting a line from George Bernard Shaw which seemed to particularly please the faculty.

"Celebrate our passion, risk failure—it may be demanding, but you'll be fully alive and awake.

"Life begets life; energy creates energy; it is by spending oneself that one becomes rich.

"Never give up, for you have a gift to give the world," she concluded. "What beckons you today is the creative power of the unknown."

President Tyson Formally Inducted

Cynthia Haldenby Tyson was sworn in as the eighth president of Mary Baldwin College May 10 in a beautiful day of solemn ceremony and joyful celebration.

Representatives of colleges and universities from all over the nation joined special guests, spectators, and members of the MBC community for the morning ceremony in front of the Martha S. Grafton Library.

President Tyson, clearly enjoying herself, delivered an inaugural address that cited the College's willingness and ability to creatively meet challenges, in the past and in the present.

She gave her audience a history lesson, observing four key moments in the College's history.

"When Mary Julia Baldwin died on July 1, 1897, a vacuum of leadership resulted," said the President. The College rebounded, however, embarking on an ambitious modernization program and approaches to combat declining enrollments.

"The early twentieth century was no longer Mary Julia Baldwin's world, but her institution had reached it intact and with a new maturity that it had been forced to reach in order to cope with a changed context," she said. "But the crisis, having been endured, had resulted in new strength."

The next crisis, said the president, was one of identity when, in 1914, Miss Baldwin's seminary faced issues of changing curriculum, raising standards, and the possibility of becoming a junior college.

"What did this College do?" asked Dr. Tyson. "It took the difficult and most challenging option, it raised standards; it defined its mission; it pursued an unrelenting purpose of academic strength; and the rest became mere detail."

The Great Depression of the 1930s produced another crisis, one of scarce resources, said the President.

Enrollments plunged, retention fell, and fund-raising suffered severely, she said. These matters were exacerbated by the fact that MBC, which had only recently become a college, had to develop new courses and purchase equipment to support a demanding curriculum.

"But, with patience and prudence, the College survived," said President Tyson. "Mary Baldwin had a sense of mission and determination, evidenced through the cooperation of all in its community to endure. Endure it did."

The advent of the Second World War brought with it a crisis of new responsibilities, the President stated.

"Changed times brought change in the attitudes and roles of women," she said. "Mary Baldwin adapted its liberal arts curriculum to meet this crisis. The thrust to reflect and prepare for career opportunities for women in the college curriculum began."

MBC, said Dr. Tyson, "was a master of adaptability, practicality, and courageous risk-taking. In this way it has always grasped the present, fraught with problems as it may be, and shaped its own future. The evidence is that it has done so successfully."

"If we now, in citing our future vision, think that we are especially to be commended or are especially creative and inventive, I urge our modest humility. For what may seem special is the routine business of this place: the normality of its mode of resourcefulness; its willingness to redeploy energies when service to society requires our adjustment; the energetic and healthy refusal to be other than successful; a dedicated determination to educate flexible, coura-

Continued on p. 3

CAMPUS NEWS

SPOTLIGHT: Frank Pancake

His colleagues frequently kid Frank Pancake by calling him Colonel Pancake, Ex-Mayor Pancake, Dr. Pancake, or any combination of the above. All of the appellations are accurate.

Dr. Pancake was born in Staunton, not far from Mary Baldwin, at a time when streetcars still served as public transportation and ice was carried around in horse-drawn wagons.

He graduated from Robert E. Lee High School, and by the time he graduated at the top of his class from Virginia Military Institute four years later in 1938, he had accumulated an impressive college record.

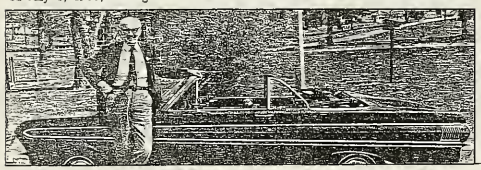
After leaving V.M.I., he entered flight training and became a pilot. He served in World War II, and was awarded the bronze star.

In 1950, Frank returned to his alma mater as Professor of Air Science and Tactics. The following year, at age 34, he was named Commandant of Cadets at V.M.I., a post he held for three years.

In 1954 Colonel Pancake entered the National War College, and later served with NATO at the Supreme Headquarters in Europe.

In the early '60s, Frank worked at the Pentagon, and in 1963 went to Panama as Deputy Commander of U.S. Air Force's Southern Command. Here, he helped plan contingency operations that might involve U.S. forces in the region.

Col. Pancake retired from the military on July 1, 1966, leaving Panama and returning to his native Staunton. He entered graduate school at U.Va. and received his Ph.D. in June of 1969.



That summer, after negotiations with Dean Martha S. Grafton, he joined the MBC faculty and with Dr. Robbins Gates, taught political science for the next decade.

"I felt it was important for students to have an understanding of different points of view around the world," he says. "I used to take a group of students up to the United Nations every fall."

At the U.N., students would attend sessions of the General Assembly, and guest speakers representing different points of view would address the students on selected topics.

Dr. Pancake enjoyed his years on the faculty, taking time during this period to dabble in local politics. He ran successfully for Staunton City Council and was elected mayor of his hometown.

In addition to his teaching chores, Mayor Pancake also directed the Continuing Education program for its first three years, worked with the first Career Planning and Placement Office, and merged that office with the externship program.

All this preceded a move to the Office of Development, where he became Director of Planned Givmg (later Capital Funds) in 1979.

This job has taken him on the road, visiting Mary Baldwin's various constituencies and potential donors all over the country. On July 1 of this year, Dr. Pancake finally stepped down from full-time service at Mary Baldwin.

He says he has enjoyed working for development, developing contacts and doing a lot of important cultivation for the College. He still, however, remembers his teaching days fondly.

"Each job in its own way has had its rewards," he says. "When I joined the faculty, though, I thought I had gone to heaven. I really enjoyed teaching."

An active 70 (as any of his opponents on the tennis courts will attest to), Dr. Pancake resides with his wife, the former Grace George (GG) Koehler, among furniture and souvenirs of world travels at their East Beverly Street residence. They have two grown children.

He says he plans to remain active in local civic organizations, including the Historic Staunton Foundation and Staunton United Revitalization Effort, and does not rule out another run for City Council next year. He will also continue to do some part time consulting work for Mary Baldwin through the end of the current calendar year.

"GG and I have been thinking about doing some writing, one or both of us," he says. "Otherwise, I plan to travel and play tennis."

AROUND CAMPUS

Dr. James D. Lott Named Dean of the College

Dr. James D. Lott, named Dean of the College by President Cynthia H. Tyson in May, assumed his new position on July 1.

"The qualifications we looked for in seeking a Dean were many," said President Tyson when she announced the College's choice. "We were quite fortunate to have found those qualities of strength and excellence right here among our own faculty."

Lott, 48, is a native of Kingsport, Tennessee. He received a B.A. from the University of Tennessee, an M.A. from Vanderbilt University and a Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin, all in English.

Joining the MBC faculty in 1964, Lott was named Professor of English in 1976, and has served in numerous capacities, including faculty marshal and Coordinator of the Division of Arts and Humanities.

At Mary Baldwin he has taught courses in 18th-Century Prose and Poetry, World Literature, the Novel, Creative Writing, and Literature for Children.

Lott designed MBC's course in basic English composition, and taught composition at the beginning, intermediate and advanced levels.

He has taught literature and creative writing in the Virginia Governor's School for Gifted High School Students, and since 1981 has taught English as a second language in a summer exchange program from Doshisha College, Kyoto, Japan.

He has conducted writing workshops at MBC, Stuart Hall, the Staunton Correctional Center, Danville Community College, "The Oaks" for Theater Wagon in Staunton, and several other places.

Lott's most recent administrative and college work has included work as Chairman of the Committee of Divisioo Coordinators, as advisor to the College Review Board, and service on the Education Committee.

A writer of short fictioo, Lott has been published in numerous literary magazines, including The Virginia Quarterly Review, The Southern Review and Emrys Journal.

He is currently editing his collection of stories, Children of God, for publication, He is also preparing a paper on "The Rape of the Lock and the Tradition of the Poetic Voice" for the Fall 1986 meeting of the East-Central/American Society for Eighteenth Century Studies.

His civic and church work has included service on the Staunton Public Library Board, on the Board of Governors of Appalachian Peoples' Service Organization, and on the vestry of Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Dr. Ethel Smeak, who chaired the Dean Search Committee, praised President Tyson's decision to appoint Lott to the post vacated a year ago by Irene W.D. Hecht.

"Dr. Lott knows the College and he knows the students," said Dr. Smeak. "He knows where the problems are, and I believe he will be able to solve them. I believe he will bring leadership to that position in making us an outstanding educational institution."

Lott said his immediate goal is to coordinate the presidential task forces this summer, resulting in some important proposals to the faculty by fall.

"This is a very exciting time at Mary Baldwin, and I'm happy to be part of an administration which is working creatively toward the future," said Lott.

"I have really enjoyed my role as a member of the faculty, and see this move as a change, but as a positive continuation of my association with the College," he said.

Lott and his wife Pamela have lived in Staunton for 22 years. They have four children.

Sissy Gardner: "Tender Tie to MBC"

Anna Marie "Sissy" Gardner '86 had two "openings" last April. She opened the spring meeting of the Board of Trustees, at their request, by describing her Russell Scholar research project. A week later she opened her play, "Such Tender Ties" in the Mary Baldwin College theatre.

Miss Gardner's proposal to the Russell Scholarship review committee had been ambitious. She intended to translate an original French play to English and then direct its premiere performance. Now, for the alumna from Nacogdoches, Texas, the work is history.

"I can't say it was as if I'd written the play," says the Russel Scholar for 1985-86, "but I labored over it enough that sometimes I felt like I did." It took Sissy, a Phi Beta Kappa double-major in French and theatre, seven months to translate the work. Mary Baldwin College French professor Charlotte Hogsett had "found" the play for Sissy after seeing it performed in Paris and obtaining a script.

The play is a series of episodic flashbacks depicting the relationship, over a 40-year period of a mother and daughter. As Sissy overcame, day after day, the difficulties of translation, she recognized the power of the play. "It's very disturbing to sit at the computer at 3:00 in the morning translating a French play and translate a line which is the exact same line you delivered to your own mother,—verbatim. Adds Terry Southerington, Mary Baldwin theatre professor, "That's what makes the play work."

But for Sissy to make the play work, there were many obstacles. The first had been overcome much earlier. She had transferred away from MBC during her sophomore year to a 113,000-student public university. It lasted only one semester. Professor Southerington says she was not too worried about the loss of one of her fine theatre majors: "Some people—you just have a feeling—they belong here. They'll he back."

Sissy discovered that she did not belong at a school with "150 students in biology class and overwhelming barriers between students and professors."

Now she credits Mary Baldwin with giving her the personal attention and support required to accomplish her project. "Such Tender Ties" ran from April 16 through 20 in the Collins Theatre of Deming Hall. The show starred Mary Furse '88 and Debbie Waensch '88. It received an enthusiastic and thoughtful response. Sissy tells of women who went home immediately and called their mothers to say, "I've been thinking about you and want you to know I love you."

The polished performance gave little indication how difficult the play had been to produce. The flashbacks require the actresses to transform immediately, with virtually no change in set, costume, or makeup, from age 70 to 20 or from 6 to 50. The play is demanding and even "scary," says Sissy.

The emotion it produces; the necessity for the audience to concentrate carefully; the strain placed upon the actresses; and the fact that the rehearsals and performances took place while a full academic load was being carried by the actresses, director, producer, and crew: all that makes "demanding and scary" apt words.

For Sissy the experience was exactly what she had sought. As a French major she wanted to do some in-depth work. As

Continued on p. 3

Mary Baldwin College
Staunton, Virginia
Vol. XXXV, No. 3
Summer 1986

Editor: John A. Wells
Art/Graphics: Janet Wilkins, Marsha Vayvada
Alumnae News: Lee Johnston Foster

Issued six times a year: (USPS 331-440) Fall, 2 issues in Winter, Spring, 2 issues in Summer by Mary Baldwin College, Box 1500, Staunton, VA 24401. Second class postage paid at Staunton, Va. and at additional mailing offices.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Mary Baldwin Magazine, Mary Baldwin College, P.O. Box 1500, Staunton, Va. 24401.

ON THE COVER:
Dorthy Bear Roach '36, Jessie Bear Agnor '35

MBC Teacher Education Program Goes to Head of the Class

Spring break wasn't much of a vacation for MBC's Education Department this year. Department members spent their "break" doing last minute preparations for a three-day visit by a State Education Department Committee, on March 10, 11, and 12. The Committee's purpose—a 5-year reaccreditation of MBC's teacher education program.

"They were the three most tense days of my life," recalls Dr. Patricia Westhafer, Assistant Professor of Education, of the visit. All the hard work paid off. Mary Baldwin's teacher education program was the only one of 15 reviewed this year to receive initial approval of all programs.

MBC's Education Department has always been excellent. One of its chief strengths is a firm foundation in the liberal arts. Students are required to complete the requirements for their major, specialized education course, and a rigorous student teaching schedule. Mary Baldwin's program is so well respected, in fact, that students from W & L and Hampden-Sydney are sent here for all their teacher training. MBC also has a cooperative arrangement with UVA's School of Education, where our students receive graduate credit for courses they take at MBC.

The review process began over a year ago, when MBC applied to the Virginia State Department of Education for reaccreditation. The State then appointed a review committee, made up of college faculty, educators, and government personnel. The committee's mission was to determine if MBC's teacher prep program complies with all established state standards.

At the same time, MBC education faculty were preparing a 3" thick self-study report for committee review. Faculty and students involved in the teacher education program were prepped by the Education Department to answer any questions the site reviewers might ask. As a finishing touch, "The Great Education Department Trivia Quiz" appeared in mailboxes with relevant facts and figures.

By March 10, everyone was prepared. "The neatest thing about this experience was how the faculty and students pulled together," says Dr. Westhafer. She and Dr. Mary Irving, Director of the Teacher Education Program, recall how members of the MBC "family" phoned them throughout the ordeal to ask "Are you surviving?" Dr. Tyson, unable to be on campus on the first day, left a videotaped welcome. One thing that most impressed the committee was the President's strong support of the program.

The review committee left no stone unturned. They combed student folders, class syllabi, faculty vitae, interviewed students, administrators, and teachers. "They really tried to find something wrong," says Dr. Irving.

When the Committee report came back a month later, it was clear the group had found everything right. The program received numerous commendations. The committee was especially impressed by the amount of training students receive to work with exceptional students. The report summed up: "The members of the visiting committee commend Mary Baldwin College for all the good things being done in support of teacher education." One committee member confirmed to Dr. Irving what we at MBC already know: "You have a beautiful campus, top notch departments, and superb students."

New Trustees

Two alumnae, Bertie Murphy Deming '46 and Leigh Yates Farmer '74 were elected as Trustees of the College at the April meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Bertie Murphy Deming, of Alexandria, Louisiana, has served four previous terms as a Trustee beginning in 1963. She has also been elected as the vice-chairman of the Board.

Mrs. Deming attended Mary Baldwin for only two years, but was awarded an honorary degree from Mary Baldwin in 1977. She served as national chairman of the $10 million New Dimensions campaign in the late seventies. The Deming Fine Arts Center is named in her honor.

She is married to Dr. John W. Deming and is the mother of four children. She is active in a number of cultural, social, and service organizations.

Leigh Yates Farmer of Richmood, Virginia, will serve as Alumna Trustee for a five year term. She works for C&P Telephone Company where she is the manager of commercial customer billing. She has been employed there since 1974.

Leigh has served as President of the National Alumnae Association and held many other positions on the Alumnae Association Board of Directors. She was the first Annual Fund Phonathon Chairman and was a member of the Presidential Search Committee in 1985.

Leigh is married to Stuart Farmer, a broker with Scott and Stringfellow and a graduate of Hampden-Sydney College. They are expecting their first child in December.

The College is most fortunate to have these dynamic and talented alumnae leading the College, as members of the Board of Trustees.

Grafton Honored

The 1986 Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award was presented to Dr. Martha Stackhouse Grafton, Dean of Mary Baldwin from 1936 until her retirement in 1969.

President Cynthia H. Tyson presented the award to the Dean Emeritus, warning the audience that Mrs. Grafton would claim she didn't deserve the award and not to pay any attention to her.

Dean Grafton did indeed say she tried unsuccessfully to turn down the award. She recalled with some pride that Mary Baldwin was the first women's college in Virginia to bestow the Sullivan Award, beginning in 1933.

She stressed, however, how much she appreciated the honor and left the crowd with "a gracious 'thank you'."

The award is given annually in both student and non-student categories, honoring those who have exhibited nobility of character in serving college and community.

Message From the President

(Editor's Note: The following are excerpts from President Tyson's Inaugural Address, delivered May 10, 1986)

A year of work has already been completed, a year of experience as new colleagues, of learning policies and practices, a year of growing awareness, for me, of the unique circumstances of Mary Baldwin, a full annual cycle of knowledge accumulated and perspectives gained.

I speak to you today, then, not only of plans and hopes for a future together shaped out of the enthusiasm of newness, but from the certainty of what has already been shaped. I speak, therefore, not of dreamed possibilities, but of real probabilities.

Support from all constituencies for the newly-defined goals of Mary Baldwin has been evidenced in daily terms. This support has transcended positive rhetoric and has produced results that a year ago seemed, in prospect, difficult to attain.

To all of you, I express appreciation for:

1. A vision statement of college priorities, a philosophy to lead us to 1992, the year of our sesquicentennial, and beyond.

2. An institutional plan reflecting those priorities.

3. Plans to formulate our proposed capital campaign.

4. A program for building, renovation, and utilization of presently unused facilities.

5. A building plan for construction of much-needed student support facilities.

6. The establishment of the Rosemarie Sena Center for Career and Life Planning.

7. The completion of an $8.5 million bond issue.

8. An administrative reorganization reflecting college priorities.

9. And, most important of all, a task force of faculty who are already engaged in academic planning of enormous curricular significance which will implement programmatically the college's philosophic identity as a liberal arts college offering career preparation in a variety of disciplines.

In adopting an assertive and creative stance, Mary Baldwin College is doing no more than continuing its assertive and creative tradition. For herein lies the enduring strength and adaptability in face of challenge that has been its tradition since 1842. And herein lies the inspiration for present and future action.

In accepting today the presidency of Mary Baldwin College, I pledge to you all my unwavering determination to stay on course.

Young Women in Science

In addition to its regular schedule of summer programs, including the Governor's School for the Gifted, the Virginia Music Camp and Elderhostels, Mary Baldwin is offering a prestigious program for high school students this year.

The Young Women in Science Program, in its first year, is a four-week program designed for advanced science students in Virginia high schools.

High school principals across the Commonwealth were asked to submit a nomination for one outstanding rising senior, and 30 young women were selected from 80 nominees for the full scholarship program. Each scholarship is $1,000. Thus far, scholarship grants have been received from Ethyl Corporation, Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, Dupont, and Hershey.

The academic program consists of two courses. Organic Chemistry of Natural Products is taught by the program director, Dr. James Patrick, MBC Professor of Chemistry. Microbiology is taught by Dr. Lundy Pentz, MBC Assistant Professor of Biology.

In addition to the intense amount of work and study involved, the students will also participate in athletic activities and a trip to Monticello, the home of Virginia scientist Thomas Jefferson.

The program is expected to attract more and more top science students to Mary Baldwin's excellent programs of study in the sciences. It grew out of the Special Summer Science program, part of the Governor's School.

Sissy from p. 2

a theatre major, she knew she must direct. After a number of major roles during her years at Mary Baldwin, she had learned a great deal about acting. But, she says, "all those things didn't come home until I was on the other side."

Sissy plans to pursue a masters degree of fine arts in drama after taking "some time off," doing some regional theatre, and perhaps seeking permission from the original French playwright to publish the translation.

The time off is well deserved. The typical Mary Baldwin theatre major, during her four years, acts in, produces, directs, and works backstage 20 plays, ranging from Shakespearean tragedy to modern farce to Gilbert and Sullivan. It is hard work to make the show look easy. Professors Virginia Francisco and Southerington, who advised Sissy Gardner in her project, believe that MBC's small size, and the breadth of activity it requires of theatre majors, give our graduates an edge on the competition after college.

A statement by professor Southerington about the philosophy of Mary Baldwin theatre also describes Sissy Gardner's striking success: "You don't limit yourself to what you think you can do in the theatre. Because, chances are, if someone doesn't know she's limited, she's not."

Inauguration from p. 1

geous, and imaginative graduates; the assumption that all shall be ethical and serene in the face of crisis."

The inaugural ceremonies were presided over by Virginia Supreme Court Justice George M. Cochran, and the oath of office was administered by A.J. Breot, Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Among those attending the event were two former MBC presidents, Dr. Samuel R. Spencer Jr., President of the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges, and Dr. William W. Kelly, President of Alabama Association of Independent Colleges.

President Tyson's immediate predecessor, Dr. Virginia L. Lester, was unable to attend, but sent a telegram which was read aloud.

Music for the ceremony was provided by the Washington and Lee University Brass Ensemble, under the direction of Robert Stewart, and members of the Mary Baldwin College Choir, under the direction of Robert Alleo.

Following the ceremony, participants, guests and spectators convened at Hunt Dining Hall for a buffet luncheon honoring the president.

That evening, a black-tie gala took place in Hunt. A champagne reception was followed by a candlelight dinner of filet mignon and a series of toasts went on into the night.

The Kings of Swing played for the Inaugural Ball, and no participant appeared to be enjoying herself on the dance floor more than the newly-inaugurated President.

Eakle from p. 4

school for two years, worked as a substitute teacher for one year, and in 1908 began teaching Latin at Robert E. Lee High School.

She was a popular teacher there for 45 years, retiring in 1953. At that time, she moved to Waynesboro, where she made her home with her sister, Mrs. Gaines Baylor, for the next 20 years. In 1973, she moved to Oak Hill.

"She says she has led a rich, full life," reports Mrs. Fenwick, who says Miss Margaret was her mother's favorite teacher, and who has been a special friend for many years.

"Literally hundreds of former students keep up with her," says Mrs. Fenwick. "She gets letters from all over."

Although in frail health for the last several years, Miss Margaret's mind remains clear, says Mrs. Fenwick.

She recently sprang back from a near-fatal illness, so remarkably, says Mrs. Fenwick, that the centenarian attended excercise classes recently.

Forecast:
A bright future for Mary Baldwin
graduates

Who's Making News

Mary Baldwin College Alumnae Office

Alumnae
in Action

Anne Pierce '70 Monkeys Around

"It's such a treat to come back here," says Anne Pierce of her first visit to the Mary Baldwin campus since she graduated a year early in 1969. In the intervening years, she has traveled the world studying primates with some of the leading figures in the field.

The native of Farmville, N.C. majored in biology at MBC, and following commencement pursued a year of graduate work at the University of Southern Florida at Tampa.

"I knew I wanted to study primates," she says, and this she did, observing apes in captivity for two years at the Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center at Emory University in Atlanta.

After this stint, she took a one-year job as nursery superintendent and assistant at Lion Country Safari in Atlanta, where she was in charge of a menagerie of animals which included hoos, chimps, goats, foxes and pigs.

Knowiog that she wanted to go to Africa, Anne saved her money for more than two years and bought a 'round the world ticket in May of 1973, touring Europe, Africa, Greece and the Middle East.

In Tanzania, she went to see Jane Goodall's gorillas at Gombe Stream National Park and was asked by Ms. Goodall to stay on and study chimpanzees for 10 months. She took up the offer, despite terrorist raids and kidnappings at the time.

Her next job was at Stanford University's Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Science, until the summer of 1976, when she presented a paper to the International Primate Conference at Cambridge.

"I then felt it was time to resume my formal education," says Anne. Numerous colleges and universities offered a variety of opportunities for study, but none of them, she said, suited her interests.

She worked in the adventure travel business, arranging trips to Alaska, the Himalayas and Colorado, and then returned to Africa to design programs for tourists in national parks.

In 1981, she was asked to study gorillas in the mountainous Virunga Volcanoes and Rwanda for a year.

"I beat my chest and went," she says with a broad smile, "and had a wonderful time."

It was during this time that she came to know the internationally known primatologist Diane Fossey, since 1967 the Director of the Karisoki Research Center in the altitudes of Mt. Visoki.

"Diane Fossey became a confidante as well as a mentor and a teacher," she says.

Tracking the mountain gorillas was rougb work, in hgh altitudes, sliding through mud, up 12 kilometers and dowo eight, through nettles and thistles.

Having conquered the heights, she next went to West Africa to set up the Gabon Research Center studyiog lowland gorillas in virgin territory ("Gorillas are important to study no matter where they live").

Her friend Jane Goodall then asked her to set up a long-term study of chimpanzees in captivity in the United States.

"I spent two years working with student keepers, teaching behavioral methods, observing, recording behaviour of chimps residing in zoos," she says.

She and Dr. Goodall are going to Africa this summer to set up programs for tourists in chimp country.

Anne is returning to Africa about seven months after an event which she still finds difficult to talk about: Diane Fossey was brutally murdered on Dec. 27.

"I cried for two days," she says simply.

Anne is very concerned about captive chimpanzee issues, and supports programs which train zoo keepers and others in the United States to be better observers and make people better aware of the needs of these highly intelligent animals.

What are her memories of Mary Baldwin? She answers in three syllables: John Mehner.

"He was the most superb teacher I've known in my life," she says. "He always encouraged me to learn more and made me feel that the questions I asked were valid ones."

The reason she returned to Mary Baldwin was to visit Dr. Mehner upon the occasion of his retirement and go birdwatching with him one more time.

As for the retiring professor, he is abundantly impressed with his former student.

"She's very, very, good, and she works with some of the leading primatologists in the world," Mehner said recently.

She adores her work, and is still eager to learn more, although she already knows a lot.

"I've come into contact with all the great apes of the world," she beams.

Honored Dean Returns

Among the celebrants attending the 50th reunion of Mary Baldwin's Class of 1936 this year was a woman who didn't graduate from MBC, but who holds the distinction of being one of the few honorary alumna in the history of the College.

The 1936 Bluestocking contains the following dedication: "There is always one person in college life whom students take as a model for their lives. At Mary Baldwin this person is one who through her grace of living has gained the respect and admiration not only of the student body but of every person who comes in contact with the school. Wherever she is, in years to come, she will remain in our hearts as the embodiment of the thing we hold closest to us—the Mary Baldwin Spirit."

She has remained in their hearts all these years, and they in hers, and the Mary Baldwin Spirit which Elizabeth Pfohl Campbell embodied is one she helped to create.

Elizabeth Pfohl graduated from Salem College in 1923 and received her Master's Degree in Education from Columbia University the following year.

She taught at Salem Academy and College from 1924-27, and was Dean of Women at Moravian College for Women for one year before coming to Mary Baldwin as Dean of the College in 1929.

When she first came to MBC, the College was still in a state of transition from junior college (which it had been from 1916 to 1923) to college, and in her own words, "I came to start student government."

"The students took the business of starting their government very, very seriously," she recalled in a recent interview. "They were very cautious about it."

She says the philosophy they tried to instill focused on the individual.

"We thought that the individual must be responsible for herself, but that she should also have the support of the College and her friends," she says.

"There was also a feeling that a graduate of Mary Baldwin was going out to be of service to her community," she says. It could take a lot of different forms, but the Mary Baldwin alumnae should make a difference where she lives."

Even though she is not a graduate of the College, the former Dean has certainly lived up to the credo of community service.

Mrs. Campbell was the first woman elected to the School Board in Arlington, VA., and served as its chairwoman for three one-year periods.

While she was chairwoman of the Arlington School Board, Mrs. Campbell pushed to establish educational television in the Washington area. Mrs. Campbell believed that television could be a valuable tool of education and so when asked to become the first vice president (and later president) of the Greater Washington Educational Television Association (GWETA), she accepted what was to become perhaps the greatest challenge and certainly the greatest success of her career.

After extensive fundraising, getting troublesome legislation rewritten and finding a tower and production center, Mrs. Campbell's dream became a reality. Washington's public television station, WETA, (Channel 26) went on the air October 2, 1961.

Today, in its 25th anniversary year, WETA reaches more than 700,000 households a week with its children's cultural and public affairs' programming. And not all of WETA's community service is on the air. The station sponsors the Children's Art Festival, honors "Woman of Achievement" and is the only public broadcasting station in the country to offer minority producers a chance to develop programming.

Mrs. Campbell has accumulated numerous awards for her work with WETA-TV including McCall's Golden Mike Award (1961), Marymount College Woman of the Year (1967), D.C. Federation of Women's Club Award for Leadership (1967) and Washingtonian of the Year (1977).

Mrs. Campbell and her husband Edmund C. Campbell, great-grandson of MBC founder Rufus W. Bailey, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anoiversary on June 15. The couple have been generous supporters of the College over the years and were on hand for Alumnae Homecoming this year, staying with their good friends the Graftons.

"Martha Grafton and I were the beginning of Mary Baldwin as a mature college for women," she says of the woman who would succeed her as Dean and hold the post for 33 years.

"We both believe that women's colleges give opportunities for women to develop skills and leadership potential they may or may aot be able to develop in a coeducational institution," she says.

"Mary Baldwin is very special in my heart," says Mrs. Campbell. "When I went to the Alumnae Association meeting, I felt I saw there in those women some of the very things we worked for. The individual is very important."

She was very pleased that the Class of 1936 boasted such a large attendance this year.

"So many from this class were here," she says. "They have always showed affection and support for oce another, and what we all bave accomplished is somethiog very special."

Oldest Alumna Remembers MBC

When Margaret Eakle came to Mary Baldwin Seminary as a day student in 1902, Theodore Roosevelt had been president of the United States for less than a year, and King Edward VII sat on the throne of England.

Now, in good spirits and with a remarkable memory, she is, at age 103, the oldest known Mary Baldwin graduate still living.

Another MBC alumna, Elizabeth Nelson Fenwick '43, does volunteer work each week at Oak Hill Nursing Home, and interviewed Miss Margaret, as she is affectionately known, for this article.

Miss Margaret was born on January 19, 1883—the birthdate, she still likes to point out, of Robert E. Lee, and hardly a decade after the great general had died.

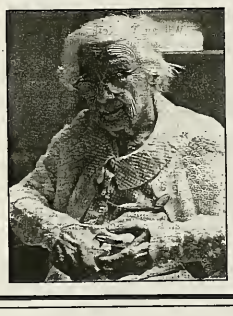
One of four children, she was raised near New Hope until the age of seven when, in 1890, she moved to Staunton to live with an aunt.

She attended public schools, graduatiog from Lee High and going on to Mary Baldwin Seminary as a day student.

"I used to hurry down the length of Augusta Street and the Prospect Street hill to get to math class by 9 a.m.," she recalls.

Her memories of Mary Baldwin are those of a bygone era, indeed. Mary Julia Baldwin herself had been dead just five years when Miss Margaret entered the seminary; there was no Academic Building, and the campus was confined to a fractioo of the land it now occupies.

She does remember "the loog steps to Hilltop" (few graduates have forgotten them), "the dogs" (not yet christened Ham and Jam), commencement exercises io the old chapel, and her "brand new white graduation dress."



Miss Margaret also recalls a history teacher, one of two sisters who taught at the seminary, whose final exam consisted of one question on the Civil War which covered a chalk board that ran around two sides of the room.

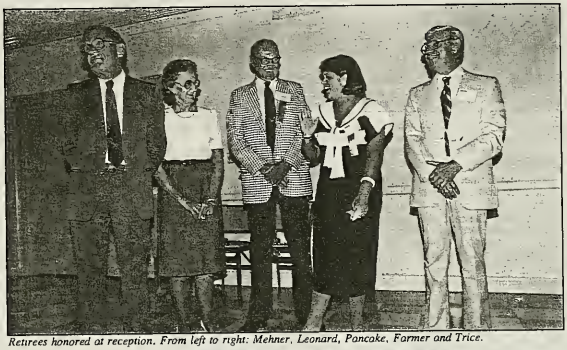
Day students then had a special entrance to the school, on New Street. May Day was not observed at that time, at least not with the court and May Queen and all the trappings, but Miss Margaret does recall attending May Day celebrations at the Virginia School for the Deaf and the Blind.

After receiving her diploma in 1905, she attended three summer sessioos at U.Va., and eventually received her teaching certificate. She taught primary

Continued on p. 3

Images of Year's End

The band plays on at commencement.



Retirees honored at reception. From left to right: Mehner, Leonard, Pancake, Farmer and Trice.

The parade of classes.

Mary O. Pollard '84 and Laura A. Kerr '84 sell aprons to raise money for class project.

Commencement Ball, a formal affair.

Karen Brammer Austin '72.

The Graftons return to join in celebration.

CHAPTERS IN ACTION

Atlanta

The Atlanta Chapter held its annual business meeting at dinner in early May at the Grand China Restaurant in Buckhead. Lee Johnston Foster '75, Executive Director of Alumnae Activities, attended from the College. Outgoing President, Jo Avery Crowder '65, was presented a gift of appreciation of a crystal vase and candlesticks.

New officers for the Atlanta Chapter are: J. Wade '69, President; and Lee O. Rooker '85, President-Elect.

J. Wade '69 President. Lee Rooker '85 Vice President and Andrea Bethea Shepherd '54, Apple Day Chairman for the Atlanta Chapter discuss plans for the year.

Charlotte

The March meeting of the Steering Committee of the Charlotte Chapter was held at the home of Mary Wray Wiggins '81. In April the monthly meeting was held at the home of Lynn Tuggle Gilliland '80, Chapter Chairman. Lee Johnston Foster '75, Executive Director of Alumnae Activities, met with the group and the group made plans for the summer and the coming year.

Columbia

The Columbia Chapter hosted a spring cocktail party in early April at the home of Nancy Mayer Dunbar '60. Arrangements for the party were handled by Katherine Jackson Anderson '80. Lee Johnston Foster '75, Executive Director of Alumnae Activities, attended from the College. Columbia alumnae joined alumni of other colleges for an "Old Dominion Day" barbeque in mid-April at Hopkins' Oldfield.

Nancy Mayer Dunbar '60, Anita Thee Graham '50 and Katherine Jackson Anderson '80 enjoy the Columbia Chapter's spring cocktail party.

Dallas

Dallas alumnae enjoyed an informal get-together in mid-May at the Travis Street Market, which is owned and operated by Carolyn Day '72. Plans for the party were made by Agnes Cooper '71, Valerie Lund Mitchell '74, and Holloo Meaders Otte '75.

The Dallas Chapter Steering Committee met with Lee Johnston Foster '75, Executive Director of Alumnae Activities, for lunch at Chez Girard the following day. Plans were made for projects and events for the coming year. The home of Kathy Barksdale Crane '74 was the location of the Dallas Chapter Steering Committee's meeting in mid-June. At that meeting, plans were finalized for activities for the coming year.

Houston

The Houston Alumnae Chapter sponsored an architectural walking tour of downtown Houston in April. The tour was led by Dr. Stephen Fox of Rice University. Arrangements for the tour were made by Emily Dethloff Ryan '63.

The Houston Chapter Steering Committee met for a luncheon at the home of Allison Hall Blaylock '76 in mid-May. Lee Johnston Foter '75, Executive Director of Alumnae Activities, met with the group and ney discussed plans for the coming yes.

New officer of the Houston Chapter are Allison Hal Blaylock '76, Presidest; Cynthia Knght Wier '68, Vice-President; Emily Dethloff Ryan '63, Secretary; Vckie Simons '76, Admissions Committee Chairman; Kathy McMillan '65 Hospitality Committee Chairman; flaudia Turner Aycock '66, Treasurer.

New Orleans

New Orleans alumnae met in early March at the home of Wendy Coleman LeGardeur '61. In April, the alumnae gathered for a luncheon at Flannigan's Wine Bar. The home of Blair Lambert Wehrmann '64 was the location for the New Orleans group's last meeting of the year in mid-May.

New York

Alumnae in Westchester County gathered in early April at the home of Suzie Maxson Maltz '75. This group is organizing as a sub-group of the greater New York Chapter with its primary focus on recruiting students. The Steering Committee of the New York Chapter met in mid-April. Officers for the coming year are Gabrielle Gelzer '83, Chair, and Laura Kerr '84, Co-Chair.

The New York alumnae participated in the annual Virginia College Coalition Boat Cruise in mid-June.

Peninsula

The annual spring meeting of the Peninsula Alumnae Chapter was held in early May at the James River Country Club. Kam Bonfoey Burgdorf '61 served as hostess for the luncheon. A wine and cheese party was also held in early May at the home of Carolyn Haldeman Hawkins '63.

Officers for the Peninsula Chapter for the coming year are: Mim West '58, President; Lacey Sanford Hudgins '62, Vice-President; Peggy Saunders Hayes '62, Secretary; and Anne Coleman Huskey '58, Treasurer.

Raleigh

Raleigh alumnae honored President Cynthia H. Tyson at a reception in mid-March at the home of Dianne Sellers '70. The enthusiastic group also made some preliminary plans for the organization of an active chapter in the Raleigh area.

Richmond

The Richmond Alumnae Chapter hosted a luncheon in late April at Westminster Canterbury. Dr. Kenneth Keller, professor of history, was the guest speaker. He presented a lecture and slide show on the History of the College.

In early June, four Richmond alumnae represented the College during WCVE Channel 23's annual fundraising auction. Lindsay Ryland Gouldthorpe '73, Alice Hansberger '73, Margaret McGeorge '75, and Suzanne Woodfin '85 comprised the team that "out auctioned" the Sweet Briar alumnae.

The Richmond Chapter hosted its annual spring event in late June with a barbeque at the Kanawha Canal Locks. Linda Martin Graybill '83 will be serving as Chairman of the Richmond Chapter in the coming year.

Staunton

The Staunton Chapter hosted a shower for the Alumnae House in mid-April. Approximately 35 alumnae presented gifts to stock the kitchen and other accessory items for the house at that time. Arrangements for the party were made by Mary Sue Mattox McAllister '77 and Luanne Whitlow Goodloe '82.

In early May, the Staunton Chapter hosted a reception in conjuction with the Staunton Fine Arts Association hooring Lois Morrison '56 from Leonia, New Jersey. Lois had an exhibit of her artwork at the Staunton Fine Arts Center during the mooth of May.

Mary Sue Mattox McAllister '77 and Luanne Whitlow Goodloe '82 admire gifts given to the Alumnae House during the Staunton Chapter shower.

Washington

The Washington Alumnae Chapter hosted a reception for guidance counselors from the Northern Virginia area in mid-April. Presidest Cynthia H. Tyson and Jane Koroegay '83, acting Director of Admissioos, attended from the College. Washington area alumnae enjoyed a "Party in the Park" in early May, co-sponsored with other Virginia alumni groups. Bluegrass music entertained the group at the Fort Hunt Park in Alexandria, Virginia.

Williamsburg

Applicants from the Williamsburg area were entertained at a dessert party at the home of Rachel Hobbs Blanks '75 in late April. Virginia Irvine, Admissions Counselor, attended from the College. Assisting with the party were Anne Wilson Linn '61, Ann Skinner Hornsby '74, and Faye Andrews Trevillian '78.

Old Dominion Day Parties

Boston area alumnae enjoyed music and dancing in late May at the annual Virginia Schools Party held at the International Institute of Bostoo.

Alumnae in Michigan and Northern Ohio participated in an annual Old Dominion Day picnic in mid-June. Sally Wetzel Wicks '78 represeated MBC on the planning committee.

Going Places With MBC

Orient Adventure

September 15–28, 1986

A far east holiday featuring the best of the Orient. In Japan, you'll visit Tokyo and ancient Kyoto. Then to Bangkok, Thailand and Hong Kong.

1987

France's Loire Valley, Chateax Country and Paris
June, 1987 with C & S Travel

Canadian Rockies
June, 1987 with Intrav

Queen Elizabeth II Cruise to London, England
July, 1987 with Intrav

For more information, contact the Office of Alumnae Activities, 703/887-7007.

From the Alumnae President

Talent has a way of identifying other talent. And that was certainly the case when Lindsay Ryland Gouldthorpe was nominated to the Alumnae Board by former Alumnae Association President Leigh Yates Farmer. It was a natural progression that Lindsay would also be elected President of the Alumnae Associatioo.

In Lindsay Gouldthorpe's case, the talent is deep and diversified. A Vice-President of Operations Administratioo with Sovran Bank in Richmond, Virginia, Lindsay has had a most successful career in banking since graduating from Mary Baldwin in 1974. In fact, she was hired by Sovran Bank for their management training program as a result of an on-campus interview during her senior year.

Since joining Sovran, she bas worked as an assistant branch manager, branch manager, credit analyst, and in branch operations across the state.

Lindsay took a short break from Sovran Bank from 1981-82 when she and her husband, Hugh, moved to Yardley, Pennsylvania. While there, she worked for the New Jersey National Bank in Trenton, New Jersey, as coordinator of branch operations.

A history major at Mary Baldwin, Lindsay also has an M.B.A. from the University of Richmood.

In describing her banking career, Lindsay said, "The field of banking is always changing and therefore never dull."

"I am looking forward to my term as Presidest of the Alumnae Associatioo. I have always enjoyed the opportunity to get to know and work with many different women from varied backgrounds whose common bond is Mary Baldwin College. In my work with the Richmond Alumnae Chapter and on the Alumnae Board, I have already experienced some of this. I feel that as President I'll have even more opportunity."

Lindsay has some personal goals as President which include visiting as many alumnae chapters around the country as possible, but "naturally, it will be easiest to travel to those chapters around the state. But because I also travel to other states with my job, I hope to be able to combine some Mary Baldwin and banking work." She also enjoys applying the management skills she has developed through her career in the volunteer environment.

Specific goals for the Alumnae Association are to double the gross sales volume of the Virginia Sampler project, thus resulting in more scholarship awards. Lindsay bas been involved with the Virginia Sampler since its inception during the time she served as Vice-President for Finance on the Alumnae Board.

Her second goal is to broaden the framework to help alumnae take a more active role in the recruitment of students for the College. "Talented high school girls are all around us. Every alumna knows at least one high school junior or senior that could benefit from a Mary Baldwin education. It is simply a matter of increasing their awareness about the importance of helping the College in this area. I feel that this is an area that we are just not taking advantage of at this time."

Lindsay is also interested in exploring new options to increase the annual gifts of alumnae to the College, both in dollars and in the perceotage of doaors.

The fourth major area is that of the Connections project. "The time is right to expand the Mary Baldwin Connections project to include career networking and counseling. Our chapter network is growing stronger annually, and providing a career network within this chapter network can only help to strengthen it more. With the establishment of the Rosemarie Sena Center for Career and Life Planning, it is only natural that the Alumnae Association should support and contribute to the programs that will be offered by the Sena Center for students and alumnae." Continued on p. 7

ALUMNAE NEWS

Lindsay from p. 6

Lindsay's involvement with alumnae activities has covered a number of areas. She first worked as an admissions aid in the Richmond area in the late 1970's. Later she served as chairman of the Richmond Alumnae Chapter and has been a frequent speaker at career symposiums for students and at the Senior Class dinner. Since being elected to the Alumnae Board in 1982, she has served as chairman of the Cookbook Committee, Vice-Presideot for Finance, and First Vice-President.

Lindsay is also active in the Natioual Associatioo of Bank Women. She served as President of the Richmood Chapter in 1984-85 and has held various other committee assignments.

She is also active in the Junior League. With her main field of interest in educational issues, she has helped develop a career shadow program for high school students and in 1986-87 will serve as a member of the steering committee for the Education Focus area.

Lindsay and her husband, Hugh, are both active in Saint Stephen's Episcopal Church where they have led the junior high youth group and taught Sunday school.

Lindsay's husband, Hugh, is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute and is an active alumni also. Hugh is in sales as the director of Hospital Services at Owens & Miner, Inc.

In her spare time, Lindsay enjoys needlepoint and has just recently learned to knit. She also finds time for reading and enjoying her dog, Patches.

"Mary Baldwin is a College on the move and I feel strongly that the Alumnae Association must move with it. I look forward to the challenge of making sure that we do" she said in summing up her plans for her presidency.

Emily Kelly Leadership Award

The Alumnae Association has established a new alumnae award to recognize outstanding leadership and dedication to Mary Baldwin College. The award honors Emily Wirsing Kelly '63. The Emily Kelly '63 Leadership Award was formally announced and presented for the first time by Leigh Yates Farmer '74, Alumnae Associatioo President during the National Alumnae Association meeting during Homecoming Weekeod.

Citing Emily's record of leadership for family, community, and Mary Baldwin College, the award was presented posthumously to Emily Kelly and was accepted by her husband, Tim Kelly, of Salem, Virginia.

Emily was a professional artist who served two terms on the Alumnae Board and as President of the Alumnae Association from 1974-76. She was also editor of the From Ham to Jam cookbook.

Active in the Roanoke community and the mother of three, she died in October, 1985 of leukemia.

The award will be presented annually by the Alumnae Association to an alumna who has demonstrated outstanding leadership to Mary Baldwin College. The award is being funded by the Class of 1963's gift.

Students Recognized

Junior Carol Diane Elliott was awarded Mary Baldwin's Russell Scholar Award. The first Outstanding Adult Degree Program Graduate Award was given to Linda Couver. The Martha Stackhouse Grafton Award, given to the student with the highest cumulative scholastic average, was presented by Dean Grafton to Mary Catherine German.

New Officers and Members-At-Large Elected to Alumnae Board

Four officers and eight new members-at-large have been elected to the Alumnae Association Board of Directors. Three new committee chairmen have also been appointed.

New officers are Lindsay Ryland Gouldthorpe '73, President; Anita Thee Graham '50, First Vice-Presideot; Gini Gates DiStanislao '84, Vice-Presideot for Annual Giving; Meg Ivy Crews '74, Vice-President for Finance.

Agita Graham is from Columbia, South Carolina, and she has served on the Alumnae Board since 1983 as a member-at-large and as Chairman of the Nominating Committee.

Gini Gates DiStanislao '84 first served as the Studeot Representative to the Alumnae Board during her senior year. Since that time, she has served on the Annual Giving Committee. Gini is employed by Lawyers Title Insurance Company and lives in Richmond, Virginia.

Meg Ivy Crews '74 of South Boston, Virginia, has served as a member of the Finance Committee since coming on the Alumnae Board in 1984. She has been involved with the Virginia Sampler Project since its inception. Meg owns and operates a jewelry story in South Bostoo, as well as being the mother of two children.

Several new committee chairs have also been appointed on the Alumnae Board. They are: Carolyn Haldeman Hawkins '63, Chairman of the Continuing Education Committee; Barbara Knisely Roberts '73, Chairman of the Homecoming Committee; Martha Masters Ingles '69, Chairman of the Nominating Committee.

Carolyn Hawkins lives in Hampton, Virginia, where she is active in a number of volunteer activities, including the Junior League, the Bicentennial Celebration for the City of Hampton, and the Mary Baldwin Alumnae Chapter. Carolyn has served as a member of the Chapter Development Committee on the Alumnae Board.

Barbara Roberts of Burlington, North Carolina, is the mother of two and serves as a bookkeeper for the Wendy's franchise which she and her husband own and operate. Barbara was elected to the Alumnae Board in 1985 and has served on the Homecoming Committee.

Martha Masters Ingles is a stockbroker with Thompson, McKenna Associates and lives in Newport News, Virginia. Martha has served as a member of the Continuing Education Committee and is also Recording Secretary of the Alumnae Board.

The eight new members-at-large elected to the Alumnae Board are: Laura Catching Alexander '71, Marie Westbrook Bream '82, Susan Jones Hendricks '78, Lisa Read Lofton '75, Jean Baum Mair '40, Dianne Sellers '70, Susan McGowan Sisler '82, and Ethel Smeak '53.

Laura Alexander now lives in Boston, Massachusetts, where she is a sales person for Neiman Marcus Gift Galleries. Laura and her husband, Dan, have recently moved from Chicago, where Laura served as President of the Chicago Alumnae Chapter, was active in the Junior League, and a member of Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago. Laura also has her law degree from Oklahoma City University.

Marie Bream is a management/financial consultant in Charlottesville, Virginia. The mother of three, Marie was a business major in Mary Baldwin's Adult Degree Program. She is very active in her church and is trained as a group facilitator.

Marie Bream

Susan Headricks of Marietta, Georgia, is a sales representative for Dover Elevator Company. She has been very active in the Atlanta Alumnae Chapter, helping to organize the chapter and with recruitment of students. Other volunteer work includes the United Way, working with her church, the Cathedral of St. Phillip, and work at Grady and Eggleston Hospitals in pediatrics. Susan's first child was born in June.

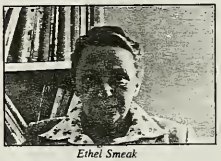
Lisa Lofton of Richmond, Virginia, is a marketing analyst for Best Products Company. Lisa has co-chaired the Richmond Annual Fund Phonathon for the last two years.

Jean Mair resides in Northampton, Massachusetts, where she is a museum guide with Smith College. Jean served as the Chairman for her class's 45th reunion in 1985 and is active in the League of Women Voters, the Monday Afternoon Club, the First Church of Christ, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Jean Mair

Diaone Sellers of Raleigh, North Carolina, is an administrative law judge serving as a deputy commissioner on the Industrial Commissioo for the State of North Carolina. She holds a master's degree from the University of North Carolina at Cbapel Hill and her law degree from Wake Forest University. She and her husband, Jim Staton, have two children. Dianne has been active in chapter activities in the Winston-Salem and Raleigh areas. She served as chairman for her class's 15th reunion.

Susan Sisler is a substance abuse counselor for the Rockbridge Community Services Board in Lexington, Virginia. Susan attended Mary Baldwin as a traditional student in the mid-'60's and graduated with a major in Psychology and Religioo through the ADP Program in 1982. Susan has four children. She is a member of the Virginia Counselors Association, the Selective Service Board, and R. E. Lee Memorial Episcopal Church.



Ethel Smeak

Ethel Smeak of Staunton, Virginia, is a professor of English at Mary Baldwin. She received her master's and doctorate degrees from Vanderbilt University and has taught at the College for 21 years. She is a member of the AAUP, Staunton Fine Arts Association, and served as a member-at-large to the Virginia Conference of the AAUP in 1986. This summer she is directing the Virginia Schools Program in Oxford, England.

Terms of office for these officers and members-at-large will begin July 1. The first meeting of the Board will be held October 2-5, 1986 during the Fall Leadership Conference weekend.

Emily Smith Medallion Goes to Cecil Turner '46

The last item of business was the presentation of the College's highest alumnae honor, the Emily Smith Medallion, to Cecile Mears Turner '46 of Eastville, Virginia.

Leigh Yates Farmer '74, Alumnae Association Presideot, presented the award citing Cecile's many hours of work on behalf of historic preservation and Mary Baldwin.

"Through her work in historic preservation, charitable causes, and with the Garden Club, she has helped to make the quality of life in the Commonwealth of Virginia, all the better. For this and for her enthusiasm and dedication to Mary Baldwin College, we award the 1986 Emily Smith Medallioo to Cecile Mears Turner," said Mrs. Farmer.

Mrs. Turner accepted the award saying that "she shared it with all alumnae of Mary Baldwin College."

A crowd of over 500 guests gathered for a picnic lunch on the President's lawn. Afterwards they played tennis, golf, toured the campus, and historic Staunton, and visited with classmates.

The day ended with a cocktail party and dinner in Hunt Hall. At the dinner, President Cynthia H. Tyson addressed the returning alumnae and guests, covering the activities of her first year as President.

Reunion classes continued the celebration with individual class parties around campus that evening.

Lee Johnston Foster '75, Executive Director of Alumnae Activities, calling the event a "great success" attributed the smooth running of the weekend to "the fine jobs done by the reunion class committees and the terrific support and hard work of the entire College community."

"It is such a pleasure to see alumnae come back and have such a good time."

Lester Scholarship

Mary Slater Linn, a rising senior from Williamsburg, Virginia, is the recipieot of the '86-'87 Alumnae Associatioo Virginia L. Lester Scholarship. Chosen for her academic excellence and proven leadership abilities, Mary Slater is majoring in sociology and political science. She is the daughter of Anne Wilson Linn '61. The $2,500 scholarship is given by the Alumnae Association.

CLASS NOTES

'13

HELEN GARBER Ridgeway of Orlando, Fla., celebrated her 92nd birthday on Easter Sunday. She enjoys watching TV and listening to the radio.

'23

DOUGLAS SUMMERS Brown of Emporia, Va., has two sons and six grandchildren.

'26

SALLIE SCHENCK Mason, of Charlotte, N.C., writes that she has two married grandchildren.

VIRGINIA ROOSA Slocum writes from Fruitland Park, Fla., that she and her husband are both retired from the education profession and they have four great-grandchildren.

'27

ELIZABETH RICHARDSON writes from Roanoke, Va., that she recently visited Australia, New Zealand and Tibet.

From Succasunna, N.J., ANNE TROTT Talmage writes that her husband is retired from the medical profession and helps her with her ministry.

'28

DOROTHY DYER Wilkins lives in Franklin, W.Va., and has four children, 12 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

MARGARET PATTERSON Mack of Bluefield, W. Va., sends news of her family. Her son is in Hawaii after a year in medical work, and her daughter will be in China next year with the Brethern Colleges Abroad Program.

MARGARET CARPENTER Lee of St. Petersburg, Fla., does volunteer work for the Salvation Army Rehabilitation Center. She also drives for Meals on Wheels and has been an elder at Woodlawn Presbyterian Church.

'29

CAROLYN GOCHENOUR England of Phillipsburg, N. J., writes that she has two children and five grandchildren.

DOROTHY MILLER Campbell of Bethlehem, Pa., has retired from teaching and is very active in the garden club. Dorothy does quilting, has an herb garden, and is active in her horticulture group.

'30

From Mount Dora, Fla., MILDRED MOORE Nixon writes that she keeps busy with her church, the Retired Officers' Wives Club, the American Legion Auxiliary and the D.A.R.

'31

ELIZABETH DRUEN JOHNSON, of Arlington, Va., is a volunteer as an income tax assistant, teacher and public service helper. She loves to travel and has visited 113 countries.

INA MACKEY Shores and husband Marshall reside in Vienna, Va., and have two children. Ina is a volunteer for the mentally and physically retarded. She has been awarded many honors for her contributions to the betterment of the community.

ELIZABATH CRAWFORD Eagle established the Friends of the Handley Library in Winchester, Va., in 1977. As she says, "The time was right as it flourished at once and has become the center of cultural and children's activities in the area."

'36

From Belle Haven, Va., DOROTHY DOUGLASS Kellam writes that she is a volunteer for the garden club, church and museums. Her husband Lucius is an executive. They have two children.

RACHAEL HANDSHAW Meener writes that she and her husband are involved in church work, community service work and love to travel. They have three children and two grandchildren and reside in Spring Grove, Penn.

LUCILLA WHITE Whitted is a housewife and does work for her church, the garden club, music club and local nursing home. She and husband Joseph reside in Wilmington, N.C. and enjoy participating in the historical society and museums as well as the University of North Carolina. They have one son and one granddaughter.

JANE DEWEY is residing in Miami, Fla.

Our apologies to HELEN WADE Dantzler for the error made in our last newsletter. Helen's husband has been deceased since 1967, and she made a trip to Germany alone to see her youngest daughter, whose husband is in the Air Force. She spent Thanksgiving with them. Helen lives in Macon, Ga.

From Baton Rouge, La., SARAH DUDLEY WHITMORE Ricks writes news of her family. Son Harriss was recently installed as the senior minister of First Presbyterian Church in Goldsboro, N.C., and son Dudley was elected by the First Presbyterian Church in Baton Rouge as D.C.E. Emeritus.

HARRIET REED Caldcleugh of San Antonio, Texas, and her husband, Clarence, have two children.

'37

EDYTHE ALPHIN Moseley of Blacksburg, Va., is involved in church, civic and social activities.

'38

MAY McCALL resides in Savannah, Ga., where she is the president of the garden club and church librarian for the First Baptist Church of Savannah.

'39

SARAH JONES Wright, of Ashland, Va., is staying busy with the Chamber of Commerce and recent traveling to Greece, London and Hawaii.

Sincere sympathy to ANITA MALUGANI on the recent death of her father, Arthur.

From LaVale, Md., IDA MAE KELLOUGH Robb writes that she and Jack have done a lot of traveling around the world in the past 15 years. Ida Mac's stroke and mild heart attack kept them from going on a four continent cruise this year. Ida Mae is feeling much better now. They have three children and four grandchildren.

SHIRLEY SMITH Huffman of Orange, Calif., writes that she would love to hear from or get together with other alumnae in the Southern California area.

BETTY BOYD Caskey lives in Honolulu, Hawaii, and writes that she recently visited Scotland with other retired or reserve women in the Navy where they were entertained by their British counterparts, the WRNS. They even saw the British Royal family at Braemar!

From Hillsborough, Calif., LOUISE WILSON Hanna writes that she stays quite busy with her organizational work, gardens, and travel.

'40

HARRIET JOHNSON Gurtler of Denver, Col., writes that she and her husband have four children and five grandchildren.

EMMA PADGETT Fitzhugh and husband were recently in France. Emma believes that being a grandmother is the greatest role yet! They live in Newport News, Va.

THELMA RIDDLE Golightly has retired after many years of college teaching, and is enjoying volunteer work at the local hospital, her church, and AAUW. Thelma lives in Jacksonville, Fla.

RACHEL HASSELL Stevens of Raeford, N. C., still teaches piano in her home. She keeps quite busy in church and community activities. Rachel recently took a trip to Japan with the North Carolina Friendship Force. (She was born in Japan.)

'41

JULIA BOYKIN received her Ph.D. in English Literature from the University of South Carolina in 1971. She resides in Columbia, S.C.

ANN BARRON CARROLL, a member of the Stuart Hall faculty for 31 years, has been presented the Honorary Distinguished Alumna Award by the school. Ann lives in Staunton, Va.

MARTHA FARMER Chapman of Dothan, Ala., and Charles recently took a trip to Alaska. They now have five grandchildren who all live in Dothan.

'42

From King William, Va., MARGARET McDONALD White writes that she stays busy helping her husband with his businesses. She sees much of her sister, ELLEN McDONALD Minct '46.

ANNE LUCAS Bair has retired from teaching and is enjoying it immensely. She resides in New Smyrna Beach, Fla.

Sincere sympathy from the MBC community to BYRD HARRIS Martin on the recent death of her husband, Thomas.

BETTY BAILEY Hall is enjoying a busy retirement. She has done some traveling and a lot of volunteer work. She also enjoys playing golf, gardening and working with geneology. Betty resides in Austin, Tx.

BARABARA STEDMAN resides in Kennebunkport, Me., where she is active in several organizations and writes a weekly news column as well as occasional special articles. Last summer she and classmates TEMPLE TYREE Powell, ANNE GARRETT Tanner, GLADYS ADAMS Link and GRATIA KAYNOR Deane had a mini-reunion.

VIRGINIA CAIN Cherry lives in White Plains, N. Y., where she has lots of fun and keeps busy doing church work and playing golf. Virginia has one granddaughter of whom she is very proud.

MARY ANN JONES Rogers of Cocoa, Fla., is enjoying her husband's retirement and traveling. She has recently had nice visits with MARY ROSE MITCHENER Wilds and SALLY MACKEY Godehn.

'43

From Mystic, Conn., ADA BUTLER Arthur writes that she is doing a lot of volunteer work at various organizations. She recently spent six weeks in Pompano Beach, Fla.

'44

GLORIA VELA Howe writes from Tucson, Ariz., that she has one daughter.

MARY IRBY Berry of Dallas, Texas, writes that her husband, Jim, has recently retired. They continue to travel, fish, visit their Texas ranch, and visit their home in Santa Fe, N. Mex. They are proud grandparents of two.

'45

CLEMENCE VIVRETT Pridham has recently moved to Dallas, Texas. She has three children and 13 grandchildren. She spent most of March in Massachusetts visiting her daughter.

ISABEL FOSTER Cole, of Washington, D.C., writes that she and her husband are planning a trip to Bermuda.

From Goliad, Tx., FLORINE STANSELL Davis and husband, Wayne, have moved into new law offices where Wayne will practice law and Florine will continue to be his secretary. They have six grandchildren.

CATHARINE PRENTISS Plummer and husband retired to Frederick, Md., in 1975 after 27 years of army life. They have four children and nine grandchildren.

'46

MARTHA BUSSA Hicks writes from San Antonio, Texas, that she and husband, Franklin, have a new grandson.

From Annapolis, Md., HARRIET SHOWELL Bald writes that her family has recently moved to another house in the same community. She and husband have three children and three grandchildren.

ANN McCRAY Sherman and Jim stay busy with their vineyard and nursery. Ann weaves in her spare time. Their son, Alan, and his family fly their Cessna onto a nearby grass strip and visit fairly often. Ann and Jim live in Branford, Fla.

JEAN WILTSHIRE Lane has five grandchildren. Jean lives in Richmond, Va., and still enjoys tennis very much.

HELEN MINTEER Denslow lives in Western Springs, Ill., and writes that her husband has retired from Amoco and now has his own consulting business. Helen is kept busy looking after her parents who live in a retirement home near her.

'47

MARTHA McMURRY Ellis, of Reno, Nevada, has sold both her businesses and is enjoying loafing, doing volunteer work and traveling. She has two sons.

From Astoria, Or., JEAN BAILEY McKinney writes that she and her husband are enjoying semi-retirement. They enjoy seeing their three children as much as possible.

GLORIA LUCAS Young, of Streetsboro, Ohio, writes that she is teaching at Kent State University.

From San Diego, Calif., VIRGINIA ROSEBOROUGH Morton writes that her husband is the Episcopal Bishop of San Diego Diocese and they both stay busy with church activities. They have three grandchildren.

From Gulf Breeze, Fla., ANN MARTIN Brodie writes that she and her retired husband have been doing a lot of traveling in their motor home, including trips through Germany and France. Ann's husband, Scott, keeps busy with his three acre vineyard and his PC home computer. Ann is still involved in the Women of the Church and will act as director of the Synod of Florida Women's Conference for a week in 1987.

'48

JEANNETTE PARHAM Duke writes from Wilton, Ct., that her children are scattered about doing various things.

BETSY BERRY Williamson writes that it is wonderful being grandmother of four. Her husband is back at work full-time and they recently had a nice trip to Charleston and Savannah.

BETTY JO BALES Gallagher of Atlanta, Ga., is with the National Board of the Presbyterian Church (USA). She is working with a network of Presbytery resource centers. Her latest vedture is as executive producer of four film strips on social issues, all of them winning awards at the Houston International Film Festival.

CLASS NOTES

'49

LIB USHER Laffitte and her husband recently took a trip to Europe. They have three children and two grandchildren.

KATHARINE MAKEPEACE Turner writes that she and her husband are still living in Manchester, Mass.

MARY ALLEN PHILLIPS Indecoe of Huntington, N.Y., enjoys working as a counselor in her own business. Her husband has his own business in the art supply field. They have three sons.

BARBARA MINTER Barnes and Jim still live in Arlington, Va., where he is director, Administration of Retired Officers Association in Alexandria. Their oldest son is a soil conservationist with the Department of Agriculture, Cissy is manager of a "Crate and Barrel" retail store, and Jimmy is with Westinghouse. Barbara and Jim are fixing up a vacation home in Gloucester, Virginia.

MARGARET LAWSON Craighill writes that she is adjusting to country living. Lloyd has retired and they have almost finished renovating an old house near Lexington, Va.

'50

BESS PLAXCO Smith, is a homemaker in Henderson, N.C. She and husband, Bob, spent five weeks in Spain this year in language training. They have two children.

NEWELL MARTIN Lee is a self-employed property manager and is also involved in the Junior League and the city-county committee. Her husband, Richard, is the vice-president of commercial loans at First National Bank. They have two children and two grandchildren.

MARILYN SIMPSON Williams and husband, Bea, reside in Montgomery, Ala., where Bea is an English professor at Auburn University. They recently traveled to England for vacation and for Bea to do some research. They have four children.

NANCY COHEN Locher is a dean at Gettysburg College. Her husband, Jack, is a professor there. They reside in Gettysburg, Pa., and have two children.

From Shreveport, La., JO HUNT Palmer writes that she is a housewife and husband Robert is a dentist. They have two children.

MARY GOCHENOUR Fowlkes and William reside in Richmond, Va., where Mary is a librarian. They have two children and two grandchildren.

VIRGINIA SMITH Massey, of Jacksonville, Fla., is a homemaker and volunteers for her church. Her husband, William, is a business investor. They have two children.

PENNIE WEST Covington, of Atlanta, Ga., writes that she and husband, Hewitt, are doing marvelously and have two children.

From Bloomfield Hills, Mi., SIS KOBLEGARD Hareus writes that she is a homemaker and is very active in Christ Church and with a retirement home. Her husband, Sinclair, is with Manufacturer's National Bank. They have three children.

FRANCES JESSEE Rust, of Alexandria, Va., is a housewife and is involved with her church and the Community Citizens Association. Her husband, William, is retired. Frances spends much of her free time china painting and she belongs to the Northern Virginia Porcelain Artists Club.

ELEANOR TOWNES Leath, of Martinsville, Va., builds and collects doll houses and miniatures. She uses miniature tools to build all the furniture to go inside the houses. Eleanor has been collecting for 40 years.

SARAH CALDWELL Cunningham and husband, Robert, have two children and reside in Shaker Heights, Ohio.

From Richmood, Va., BETTY BRINCKERHOFF Thomas writes that her husband, Harry, is a physician. Betty volunteers for the medical auxiliary and is the show manager for an antique show. They have four children and four grandchildren.

MARGARET WILSON Wood is a housewife in Charlottesville, Va. She volunteers for the heart fund, garden club, hospital auxiliary and her church. Her husband, James, is a pediatrician. Margaret and James have three children and three grandchildren.

GENEVIEVE COURTNEY Ames, of Newport News, Va., volunteers for the Mariner's Museum, the Junior League and is a nature museum instructor. Her husband, John, is a dentist. They have three children.

SALLY COX Lee is involved with church work. She enjoys traveling and has been visiting various areas of the southern states the last two years. She plans a trip to England and Scotland next fall. She is a member of the book club and is involved in working on geneology. Sally has four children and resides in Orlando, Fla.

MARY CAROLYN HOLLERS George is an associate professor of art at San Antonio College. She is also involved with the Junior League and the San Antonio Conservatioo Society. Her husband, Geoe, is an architect. Mary Carolyn and Gene have two sons.

From Joplin, Mo., DONNA DAVIS Browne owns a gift shop called The Double Eagle. Her husband, Leland, is the executive vice-president of a roofing manufacturing company. They have three children.

MARY WOOD McCormick of Staunton, Va., is a retired teacher, after teaching for 19 years at the elemeotary level. Mary's husband is a civil engineer with the Virginia Highway Department. They have two children, Sarah and Bryan.

ADRIANE HEIM Lyman of Sherborn, Mass., is curreotly auditing classes in American architecture and 20th century art at Wellesley College. She is vice-president of Readings for the Blind and is a docent at the Wellesley College greenhouses after training with the head of the horticulture departmeot. Adriane's husband is director of sales and marketing with Precious Metals for Industrial Use. Their children are Judith and Gwen.

CLARA BURROUGHS McFarlin of Atlanta, Ga., writes that her husband, Dick, took an early retirement last June, but after three months of "Hooey - do's", he took a job as technical director of a laboratory in Atlanta. They have two grandchildren.

FLO TALMAGE Landwehr lives in Monroe, La., and is active in the Presbytery Divisioo of Women's Concerns, the Monroe Christian Community Ministry, and several church committees. Her husband is an engineer with International Minerals and Chemicals. They are restoring her grandparents' old home. It has 13½ ft. ceilings and is situated on four acres. They have four children, Clark, Jane, Goya, and Louisa.

MARIAN McKENZIE Langford of Houston, Texas, is thoroughly enjoying her husband's early retiremeot.

VIRGINIA ROSE Hagee lives in Rumson, N. J., where she is active in Pi Beta Phi, church groups, and the yatch club. She and Frederick have two children, Virginia and Carolyn.

TERRY WHITE Clegg owns a boutique on the River Walk in downtown San Antonio, Texas. She usually travels to Italy each year to purchase leather items for the store.

'51

MITZI VICK Shaw and husband Richard reside in Fort Smith, Ark., where Richard is an attorney and banker and Mitzi is a homemaker. They have four children and seven grandchildren.

BETTY STALL Mullikin of Aiken, S.C., volunteers for a local hospital and with abused children. Her husband, Gene, is a minister. They have two children.

LILIAN BEDINGER Taylor is a homemaker and volunteers for her church and the Children's Aid Society. Her husband, Arnold, is an Episcopalian priest. They reside in Nanjemoy, Md., and have three children.

MARY LOU CHRISTIE Schroeder and family have recently moved from Connecticut to Winchester, Va. Mary Lou is a homemaker and husband, David, is a small business consultant. They have four children and three grandchildren.

BETTY HARWOOD Copland of Charles City, Va., recently took the MBC sponsored trip on the Delta Queen and loved it.

JANE STANLEY Chislett and husband John reside in Lake Wylie, S.C. Jane does work with the hospital support group and golf committee. They are curreotly building their retiremeot home on Lake Wylie and look forward to that as their permaneot residence. They have two children.

NANCY KUNKLE Carey is a receptionist and bookkeeper for Carey International Truck Sales, Inc., and Carey Ford Tractor. Her husband, Henry, owns and operates the two businesses listed above. They have one daughter and reside in Staunton, Va.

From Pittsburgh, Pa., JACQUELINE McCLENNEY Hamilton writes that she is a homemaker and volunteers for Meals on Wheels and her church. Her husband, Richard, is an applicatioo engineer. They have one daughter.

LORRAINE WELLER Darby is a school teacher and husband, Albert, is a retired Army officer. Lorraine volunteers for various church and community activities. She and Albert have two children.

From Westport, Ct., MARTHA McMULLAN Aasea writes that she is still with the United Nations as the Senior Information Officer at the Departmeot of Public Informatioo. Her husband, Larry, is the Executive Director for Better Vision Institute. They have two children.

MARGIE JOHNSON Thompsoo and husband Rick were married in 1982 in London at Westminster Abbey. Margie is curreotly a travel agent and Rick is self employed in the oil and gas business. They enjoy their three children and traveling and tennis.

MARIA CASSERES de Gonzalez lives in Barranquilla, Colombia, S. A., where she is a housewife and at home secretary for Youth for Understanding. Maria has traveled to the U.S.A. to visit her American grandchildreo, Pat's sons. The last time she visited MBC was in 1973 when her daughter, Pat, graduated. Her husband is a gynecologist in private practice. Lilian, another daughter, is now doing her residency in obstetrics at the University of Cauca.

JO ANN VANN Cannoo of Elba, Ala., has been a senior Girl Scout leader for 15 years and has been recognized by the South Central Alabama Girl Scout Council for outstanding Scout work. Her husband is an attorney and has his own law firm. Their daughter, Courtney, is an hooor graduate of Converse College, majoring in English.

MARTY KLINE Chaplin of McLean, Va., and husband are proud grandpareots for the first time. Marty and family, aloog with SHIRLEY SUNDERMAN Kostik and family, went to Big Meadows in March to see Halley's Comet—"Fun Weekeod."

'52

MAY JACK THORNTON McCavitt, of Parma Heights, Ohio, is a homemaker and is involved with her church. She is an avid runner, having woo a 26 mile race in her age group. Her husband, Paul, is an operational analyst for LTV Steel Company. They have one son.

MARY LAMONT Wade lives in Richmood, Va., where she is on the planning committee for Henrico County. She volunteers for the Learning Disabilities Council, Meals on Wheels, her church and many others. Husband Winfrey is an attorney. They have two children and two grandchildreo.

From Lutherville, Md., MARGARET ANN CURRY Wise writes that she is a teacher and Meals on Wheels volunteer. She and husband Charles have two children.

ANN BROWN Voss, of Albany, Ga., is a school counselor. She and her husband, Norman, spend their weekeads on the Gulf of Mexico at Alligator Point, Fla. They are avid shell collectors and do a lot with shell crafts. They have three childreo.

ANN SCHLOSSER, of San Antonio, Tx., is involved in the San Antonio Conservatioo Society, the Arthritis Fouodation and the church adult education.

JOYCE ACKER Ratliff and husband, James, reside in Birmingham, Al., where James is a mortage banker. Joyce is involved with the Junior League, girls club and church activities. They have three children and four grandchildreo.

PENELOPE WATSON Scott is a housewife and husband, Stanley, is an instructor in electrical power. They have two children and reside in Anderson, S.C.

From Charlottesville, Va., MARGARET McLAUGHLIN Grove writes that she is an academic secretary and is involved with the Junior League and meotal health family support group. Her husband, James, is an investmeot banker. Margaret and Jim have spent some time in Europe and the Caribbean recently. They have two children.

From Fredericksburg, Va., EMILY MITCHELL Williamson writes that she is a housewife and is involved with Mary Washington Hospital and Rappahannock Big Brothers. Her husband, Dan, is the senior vice-president of Fredericksburg Savings and Loan. They have three children.

From Fort Worth, Tx., PATTI MANN Burr writes that she is the executive secretary to the general manager of Neiman Marcus. She is able to view all the latest fashion collections and goes to a lot of parties. She recently bought and remodeled a lakeside home. Patti volunteers for the DAR and Rotaryanns. She has three children.

BILLIE JEAN SMITH Towlen, of Winchester, Va., is a homemaker and puppy teoder. She has visited Europe twice with the MBC group. Billie Jean has two children.

'56

PATRICIA BOWIE Davis of Harlingeo, Tx., writes that she and husband, Dick, enjoyed the MBC sponsored Dutch Waterways trip in 1985. They also toured Switzerland this past January. They have three children.

FAYE LUKE Lewis and husband James live in Sardis, Miss., where Faye is a substitute teacher. They have ooe son.

SALLY LANDER Edwards of Corpus Christi, Texas, seods oews of her childreo. Their oldest daughter, Terry, is oow practicing law and soo, Billy, will be graduating from law school and will be in practice with his father. Youngest daughter, Maggie, is with the Peace Corps.

ELIZABETH MALONE of Shorewood, Wisc., will be entering the master's degree program at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee in September for creative writing.

From Branford, Conn., ELIZABETH CASEY Radulski seods oews of her four sons. David has graduated from Colgate-Darden at U.Va.; Matt will be a senior at U.Va. oext year; John is working in New York City; and Stephen will go to Dickinson in Pennsylvania oext year.

ANN RITCHIE McHugh of Savanoah, Ga., is employed by the Episcopal Diocese of Georgia as the Christian education consultant. Her husband, Dick, also works for the Diocese as an administrator. They have three children, Alex, Ritchie, and Wesley.

'57

JULIE RAND Brawner writes that she and husband, Jim, recently returned from a two-year sabbatical in Saudi Arabia. They reside in Atlanta, Ga., and have three childreo.

CLASS NOTES

JANE HOGAN Moses writes from Albuquerque, N.M., that she is busy running a small catering business and doing a lot of handiwork. She and husband, Curt, enjoy skiing and are in the process of building a solar home in the country. They have four children and one grandchild.

'58

From Franklin, Va., ANN COOKE Britt writes that she and husband, Mills, have two sons at VPI-SU. Mills is a general surgeon.

SHEFFIELD LANDER Owings writes that her husband has retired from college teaching and has entered a law practice of his own. They live in Little Rock, Ark.

JUDY GALLUP Armstrong is an associate broker with Owen Thomas, Inc., in Staunton, Va. Judy enjoys travel and recently toured the Orient.

'59

SALLY GRAHAM Murphy of Frederick, Md., writes that her husband was re-elected for a third term on the Board of Aldermen of Frederick City.

'60

TONI BALDWIN Shelton, of Dallas, Tx., is selling residential real estate. She has two children.

SUE WARFIELD Caples of Wilton, Conn., has recently completed studies for M.S.W. degree at Fordham University and has accepted a job at St. Joseph Hospital in Stanford in physical rehabilitation.

'61

ELIZABETH ALLAN Collins writes of her many visits to Staunton and MBC, due largely to being married to a son of Fletcher Collins.

AGNES DICK Kump is a teacher and husband, William, is an attorney. They have two children and reside in Newport News, Va.

From Birmingham, Ala., BOBBIE JEAN REID Bailey writes that she is a housewife and is involved in the PTA, church and local tennis organizations. Her husband, Russell, is an actuary in the insurance business. They have three children.

KITTY LOU TINNELL Ward, of Roanoke, Va., is the coordinator of volunteers for the American Red Cross. Her husband, Wardie, is a plant manager for the Chesapeake Corporation. They have three children.

NANCY SIMPSON Steinmiller, of Mooresville, N.C., is a tax preparer for H&R Block. Her husband, William, works with marketing industrial chemicals. They have two children.

From Gaithersburg, Md., SHIRLEY CORBIN Menendez writes that she is the coordinator of administrative services for student affairs at Georgetown University. In her spare time, she enjoys working with her husband, Al, in writing and promoting his books.

JANE COUCH Teer recently visited Jerusalem, Athens, India, Singapore and Bangkok. She and husband, Nello, reside in Durham, N.C., and have two children.

SYLVIA CUELLAR Luedtke, of Dallas, Tx., owns a dance-exercise studio. She is also involved with the Junior League and the Dallas Museum of Art. Sylvia has four children.

From Dallas, Tx., ANNE PONDER Dickson writes that she owns a book publishing company, which was recently recognized for its quality design and literature. Her husband, Bob, is in real estate development. They have two children.

CORNELIA JENKINS Futral resides in Clarksdale, Ala., where she is a sixth grade teacher. She has three children.

PHEBE PALMER Bishop, of Essex Falls, N.J., is a housewife and crafter. She volunteers as an art therapist at a local hospital. Her husband, John, is with AT&T. They have two children.

From Indianapolis, Ind., MARTY VYVERBERG Telfer writes that she is a manufacturers representative for The Wilkes Group. She is also involved with the Junior League and the Indianapolis Opera Company. Her husband, James, is an attorney. They have two children.

SUZANNE BURCH Coates, of Charlottesville, Va., is a rehabilitation teacher for the visually handicapped at a state agency in Waynesboro, Va. She is a volunteer for the Junior League, Bayly Museum and Hearthstone Children's House. Suzanne has two children.

LYNNE CHANEY Williams, of San Antonio, Tex., is a homemaker and husband, Ron, is the City Manager for Classified Parking. They have two children.

From Metairie, La., WENDY COLEMAN LeGardeur writes that she is the executive vice-president for William B. Coleman Co., Inc. Her husband, Armand, is in construction and land development. They have two children.

ANNE WILSON Linn, of Williamsburg, Va., works for the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation. Her husband, Collyer, works for the Small Business Administration for the U.S. Government. They have two daughters, Mary Slater (MBC '87) and Zee-Zee (MBC '89).

KAM BONFOEY Burgdorf, of Hamptoo, Va., is a housewife and volunteers for her church. Her husband, Carl, is the first vice-president for Sovran Bank. They have four children.

From Jackson, Miss., ESTHER DOUGHTIE French is involved in many volunteer activities. She is the vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Educational Fund of the International PEO Sisterhood. She is also on the board of the Jackson Symphony League, an officer in her DAR chapter, a sustainer in the Junior League and an advisor to the board of the Jackson Stitchery Guild. Her husband, Ted, is in insurance. Esther enjoys playing tennis, snow skiing and traveling. She and her family have been to Europe three times and enjoy going to Colorado each year. Esther and Ted have two children.

FRANCIS KRETLOW Gehriig is a first grade teacher. She has three children and resides in Milwaukee, Wi.

BEVERLY GREAR Hurt, of Atlanta, Ga., is involved in the Junior League, Atlanta Speech School, United Way and her church. Her husband, Charles, is an attorney. They have three children.

SALLY O'BRIEN Lemon and husband, Jonathan, are the owners and presidents of a leather furniture company. They reside in Lake Oswego, Or., and have three children.

MAY WELLS Jones, of New Orleans, La., is an Associate Professor in drama and communications at the University of New Orleans. She is finding out what it is like to own a home and keep up with the yard work and repairs. May is also trying to find time to do research and writing.

CHARLOTTE LEVERTON Newell, of Anniston, Ala., writes that she recently bought a Jane Fonda tape and bottle of Grecian Formula to get ready for her 25th reunion.

FLO BREUNIG Carroll is a homemaker in Houston, Texas. Her husband, Jim, is an attorney and they have three children, Mary, Jamie, and David.

BARBARA WILLIAMS Craig of Raleigh is now associated with the Admissions Office at Meredith College, and is looking forward to a trip to England this summer.

CECELIA FLOW Eller of Champaign, Ill., has made a career in the theater in costuming. Currently she is the costume shop manager and assistant professor at the Performing Arts Center at the University of Illinois.

CAROL STONE Stickney is a homemaker in Montrose, Ala., and her husband is a psychiatrist.

BARBARA WOODHAM Sims of Augusta, Ga., is co-owner of a children's and ladies' store. Her husband, Fred, is a dentist and president of the family brick company. They have two sons, Fred and Craig.

Our sympathy to MARY JOHNSON Phillips whose husband died in February.

KAY HUNDLEY Fisher of Hillsborough, Calif., lists herself as a professional volunteer. She works with the Stanford Hospital critical care team, as family counselor and patient relations associate. Her husband, Bob, is senior vice-president and manager with Merrill Lynch and they have three children, Rob, Bill, and Greg.

'62

SUSAN CADLE King, of Hightstown, N.J., has two children in college and one in high school.

From Fleetwood, Pa., IVA ZEILER Lucas, writes that she is the manager and buyer for a gift shop. Her family spent five weeks in Italy last summer while husband, Ray, taught at the University of Pavia for three of those. This May, Iva will accompany her mother, brother and sisters on a two week trip to England. Iva and Ray have one daughter.

HARRIET HART McGuffin of Houston, Texas, is owner of HHM, a ladies' boutique. Husband, David, is first vice-president of Rotan Mosle Brokerage.

SALLY HELTZELL Pearsall of Mobile, Ala., does a lot of costuming for theater groups and still likes to act and sing. Sally has two children, Sally and Susan.

'63

From Sausalito, Calif., ROBERTA GILL Hefler writes that her three year old son, David, keeps her busy. She also works part-time as a social worker, currently in adoptions, placing older, hard to place children who need permanent homes.

FRANCES DAVIS TenBrook writes that she is interested in prison ministry and Cursillo. She resides in Wilbraham, Ma.

JANET BISH Holmes, of Manchester, Ma., writes that her family spent the last two years living in Jakarta, Indonesia, where husband, Gordon, was working.

KEENE ROADMAN Martin is working at her church helping to implement a computer system. She and husband Howard have one daughter and reside in San Antonio, Tx.

JUDY THOMPSON Hatcher writes that she recently visited with MARGIE NEA Woodson.

LINDA FOBES Marion and husband, Steve, reside in Plano, Tx. Linda works part-time and does a lot of volunteer work, mainly through the Junior League project, war on drugs. Linda and Steve have three children.

KAY MILLER DeGenaro finds it hard to believe that they have a son, Doug, old enough to be in his third year at U.Va. School of Architecture!

LINDSAY BREAKELL of Pitman, N. J., is teaching kindergarten. Lindsay received a master's degree in art education from Glassboro State in 1982 and has recently been certified in guidance counseling.

ANN APPLETON Recesso is living in England where her husband works as an educator for the Department of Defense School System. Their home, a 350 year old cottage in The Cottswalds, is their hobby. They have two daughters.

'64

NANCY SMITH Norvell, of Austin, Tex., owns a residential real estate company and her husband, Rush, is with Advanced Micro Devises. The have two daughters.

VICKIE REID Burford has recently moved to Richmond, Va., and enjoys her new home. She recently saw GAY ANN BEST Fredman and JULIA PRICE Lanier in Raleigh, N.C. Vickie has two children.

SANDY McDANIEL Ozmun, of Corpus Christi, Tx., is in the real estate/title company business. Husband Bill is a K-Mart manager. They enjoy snow skiing and have two daughters.

From San Anotnio, Tx., MARY KERR Denny writes that she is taking her children on a Caribbean cruise in June.

SALLY DORSEY Danner is an interior designer, doing mostly residential work in Atlanta, Ga. She has been involved in several large fundraising events, most notably, the Beaux Arts Ball which raised $175,000 for the Atlanta College of Art.

'65

GRACE COOKE Lusk is enjoying her life in Idaho with Lu her husband and two little boys.

KATHRYN JOHNSON McKinnie resides in Rolling Hills, Calif., with her husband and four children. They enjoy being close to a big city as well as the country life.

MARY GILLESPIE Amos, of Atlanta, Ga., recently graduated from Columbia Theological Seminary with a Master of Divinity degree. She has been working at Emory University Hospital as a chaplain and is currently in the Clinical Pastoral Education Program there, which is training in pastoral care. She was ordained on December 29, 1985 at Central Presbyterian Church in Atlanta. Her husband, Tony, is a stock broker with Bear Stearns. They have two children.

BEVERLY TUMLINSON Sparrow, of Lexington, Ky., is starting back to school at the University of Kentucky to work on her MBA part-time.

CATHERINE GRIFFIN Barr of Atlanta, Ga., teaches swimming to pre-schoolers in the summers and keeps books part-time for a friend in the jewelry import business. Catherine has two daughters.

ELIZABETH BROWN McKell of Overland Park, Kans., writes that her husband is the organizing pastor of a new church in which they are all involved. They have three sons, Joshua, Shannon, and Matthew.

'66

From Tampa, Fla., ROSEMARY HARRIS Henderson writes that she just completed a fun year as president of the Junior League of Tampa. This year she will enjoy her Bible study classes, painting, and spending time with her husband Tom and two sons.

MARY ELLEN KILLINGER Durham, of Dallas, Tx., is a psychiatric social worker/therapist in private practice. Daughter, HEATHER, is a member of the MBC Class of '88.

PAGE JONES Thacker is still teaching in Chesterfield County. Her husband, John, works for a yacht broker and is living on their boat at Gwynn's Island, Va. Page and her daughter live on the family farm in Disputanta, Va., and commute to Gwynn's Island during the school year and live there all summer.

From Annandale, Va., GLENDA PEARSON Anderson writes that she has been a realtor for the last eight years, and in 1985 she was named top residential sales agent in Northern Virginia for the entire Century 21 region. Her two children are Zeb and Kate.

GINGER TIMBES Ewing and family have settled into their new home in Westport, Conn. Ginger has a private practice teaching Lamaze childbirth preparation. Their sons, Meredyth and Spencer, seems to go non-stop!

'67

SALLIE CHELLIS Schisler loves her hospital marketing and public relations job. Husband Dick is busy with a private law practice and being the city solicitor. They have two sons and reside in Portsmouth, Ohio.

CLASS NOTES

In addition to working as a librarian at the University of Virginia, SUSANNE REIM Glass, recently opened up a spinning and weaving supply shop in Charlottesville, Va. She resides in Earlysville, Va.

JENNIFER COX Coleman of Little Rock, Ark., writes that her husband is a lawyer and they have a daughter who is 13 years old. She is owner of Coleman-Gibson Personnel Agency.

SARA NAIR James lives in Norfolk, Va., and is teaching Medieval and Renaissance art history at Old Dominion University.

Jim and NANCY FALKENBERG Muller have recently moved to Orlando, Fla., where they live very close to Disney World. Nancy has joined two tennis leagues and is looking for classmates in the area.

It has been a busy and challenging year for WINNIE MATHER Doherty as president of the Junior League of Philadelphia. Winnie found her husband and daughter to be extremely supportive and patient. Winnie and family live in Radnor, Pa.

ELIZABETH PREDDY of Atlanta, Ga., is enjoying her position as market development manager for national sales with Coca-Cola USA. She is looking forward to a photographic safari in Kenya this summer.

PAT FORBES of Reston, Va., has a growing business as a representative for photographers who do corporate, advertising, and architectural photography.

'68

LUCY SMITH Fink is involved in Hospice volunteering and caring for a baby part-time. Husband Newton works for the Department of Corrections for New York state. They have three children and reside in Coeyman's Hollow, N.Y.

VIRGINIA REYNOLDS Vogel, of Potomac, Md., recently appeared on the cable television program "Ask Washington" with Edward Fisk of the New York Times answering questions about college options. Virginia is the Director of the Educational Guidance Service in Chevy Chase, Md.

KATHERINE MARTIN Snider has completed three semesters in fiction writing at Princeton University and is currently writing her own novel. Husband Arnie is a securities analyst. They have two children and reside in Princeton, N.J.

From Missoula, Mont., ANNE DuBOSSE Zader is a high school substitute teacher and is attending night school for data processing and computers. Husband Bill is executive director of The Foundation for the University of Montana. They have two daughters.

ANN MOIZE Parkinson and husband Bill reside in Little Rock, Ark., where Bill is a pastor. They have four children.

JAN STOFFEL Monahan and family enjoyed their recent trip to the MBC campus where they were delighted to see Dr. Mehner again. Jan is the supervisor in the microbiology lab at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center, and Mike is teaching at the University of Denver. Billy keeps them busy with soccer and Scouting activities.

LEE McALLISTER Turner of Atlanta, Ga., has been a voice and on-camera talent for radio and TV commercials for 16 years—best known for being the voice of the Atlanta Hartsfield Airport. She and Winn have two sons.

MITZI BROWN Kintz has a small business, "AdMITZI BROWN Infinitum", a copywriting and design concern. She enjoys giving tours of Historic Downtown Atlanta with the Atlanta Preservation Center. Husband, Peter, is a partner in a law firm, and they have two children.

'69

SALLY JAMES Laster, of Norfolk, Va., is still teaching at Old Dominion University as an adjunct professor in the art department.

SUZANNE HARTLEY Barker, of Colville, Wash., has resumed English horseback riding and showing and is teaching kindergarten part-time. Her husband is a physician and they have two sons.

From Brush Prairie, Wash., KATHERINE QUILLIAN Solberg works with the Forest Service in Portland, Or. Her husband Terry is deputy forest supervisor for the Gifford Pinchot National Forest, which includes the Mt. St. Helens National Volcanic Monument.

ANN LEWIS Vaughn, of Mt. Airy, N.C., is still teaching psychology part-time at Surry Community College. Her husband Tom received his hot air ballooning license in January. They have two children.

From Houston, Tx., ELLEN GILLIAM writes that she is the senior research assistant at Baylor College of Medicine.

SYDNEY TURNER Elsass of Milltoo, Mass., has a public relations business there which is doing quite well. Her husband, Sandy, owns an insurance agency and is an active volunteer.

SHELLA DeSHONG Black lives in Atlanta, Ga., and is enrolled in fine arts (painting/drawing/printmaking) at the Atlanta College of Art. Husband, David, is with Merrill Lynch.

LAWSON BONNER Anderson lives in Tarboro, N. C., and is the assistant clerk of court in Edgecombe County. She recently became the first female lay reader in Calvary Episcopal Church. She is also on the board of visitors of the Conference Center of the Diocese of North Carolina. Her oldest daughter, Lawson, is attending Wake Forest University.

DINAH THOMPSON Searles of Cumberland, Md., stays busy carpooling Leigh, Alison, and Andrew to dancing, piano, and gymnastics classes. When she can find a spare moment, she does volunteer work and some cross stitch.

MARSHALL LIPSCOMB Foster stays busy as the mother of two girls, Margaret and Elizabeth. She is active in her church and as a community volunteer. Her husband, Henry, is president of Foster-Dixiana Sand, Inc. Marshall and her family live in Columbia, S. C.

'70

MARCIA VIGNEAULT Litton is a volunteer for many organizations. Her husband Wink is the attorney, vice-president and general counsel for the O.K. Trucking Company. They have two sons and reside in Cincinnati, Ohio.

STEPHANIE SHEARER Timm, of St. Charles, Ill., is beginning her second semester as a French instructor for Northern Illinois University. She has three children.

LISA ROWLAND Whitbeck lives in Little Rock, Ark., with her husband, Frank, and two boys, Deke and Jack. Frank is owner of Signature Life Insurance Company and Winrock Grass Farm.

ELIZABETH HIGGINBOTHAM of St. Louis, Mo., is working in real estate and doing radio and television commercials.

KATHY CRAWFORD Arrowsmith of Bowling Green, Ohio, was recently elected elder in the Presbyterian Church; also clerk of the session. She continues doing volunteer work at school, hospital, and other community organizations. Husband, Bob, is assistant vice-president for student affairs at Bowling Green State University. Their children are Nathan and Jane.

GAIR HARTLEY Jewell of Winston-Salem, N. C., stays busy with her two children, Rob and Hartley. She is a free-lance interior designer.

'71

ELIZABETH CONNER is a community relations specialist for Henrico County Public Schools. She is involved in numerous volunteer activities including the Richmond Urban Forum, her church and the Junior League. She resides in Richmond, Va.

LOLLY CATCHING Alexander and husband, Dan, have recently moved to Boston, Mass. Lolly is working at Neiman Marcus and Dan is in real estate development.

From Philadelphia, Pa., JANIE FAULDS writes that she is the assistant vice-president for an employee benefits consulting firm. She is also involved in her church.

AMY NELSON Warren, of Waynesboro, Va., is a housewife and volunteer for the Girl Scouts, elementary school and her church. Husband Pete is a civil engineer. They have two children.

SUZANNE RAVENEL of Mt. Pleasant, S.C., is an attorney and has three children.

PATRICIA LAMBERTH Bruce is a math teacher and husband, William, is a waterman and decorative wildfowl carver. Patricia and William are the chairmen of the seventh annual Rappahannock River Waterfowl Show. They have two children and reside in White Stone, Va.

From McDonough, Ga., SALLY CANNON Crumbley writes that she is a homemaker and library volunteer. Her husband, Wade, is an attorney. They have two sons.

ANNE COLLINS Doyle, of Hyattsville, Md., is the president and creative director of Collins & Doyle Advertising, Inc. Her husband, Frank, is the vice-president of the same firm.

EMILY PAINE Brady is writing for the Roanoke Valley Chamber of Commerce newsletter and magazine. She resides in Salem, Va.

From Raleigh, N.C., SUSAN POPE Finch writes that she is a mother, homemaker and part-time piano teacher. She volunteers for many activities including her church, North Carolina Art Society, North Carolina Symphony Society and Arts Together. Her husband, David, is the owner and president of Finelco Electrical Construction Company and Lighting Energy Savings Systems. They have four children.

SUSAN RICHARDSON Hauser, of Winstoo-Salem, N.C., volunteers for the Junior League. Husband, Charles, is in medical group management. They have two daughters.

CATHARINE PIERCE Stringfellow is a material planning specilaist for AT&T. She volunteers for the American Lung Association. Husband, Donald, is a financial services manager for AT&T. They have one son.

MARCHANT STARR Reutlinger is a housewife and volunteer for many activities such as the Ronald McDonald House, Junior League and United Way. Her husband, Barton, is an orthopedic surgeon. They have two children. Marchant and her family reside in Louisville, Ky.

From Covington, Va., ELLEN JOHNSON Candler writes that she is a computer consultant with Westvaco. Husband, Peter, is the vice-president of Kinzer Insurance. They have three children.

SHERYL ALLEN Blackford resides in Charleston, S.C., with her husband, Henry, and son. Sheryl is a high school social studies teacher and Henry is a banker.

PAULA POWERS Tchirkow is a homemaker and her husband, George, is an intestinal surgeon. Paula does volunteer work at a local nursing home and as a coordinator of social agencies. She has also been taking figure skating lessons for the past two years. Paula and George have three children and reside in Pittsburgh, Pa.

DEE BOWMAN Haggard is the personnel director for Petro Star Energy. Her husband, Ward, is the president of the same company. Dee is currently taking accounting classes at a local college. They reside in Traverse City, Mi., and have three children.

NANCY MORSE Evans, of San Antonio, Tx., writes that she has gone back to work as an executive with a department store.

JEANNINE PHIPPS Porzio is a homemaker and husband, Anthony, is a religious philosopher and artist. They home-teach their four children and enjoy a gratifying life in Williams, Or.

SHIRLEY FREY Morris is a homemaker and does volunteer work for such organizations as the library, schools and MBC. Husband, John, is the assistant attorney general. They have two children and reside in Richmond, Va.

KATE GLADDEN Schultz, of Winchester, Va., is a homemaker. Her husband, Thomas, is an attorney. Kate has been doing commission for pen and ink sketches of homes and has done house sketches for Historic Garden Week. She also does illustrations for the local library newsletter. Kate and Thomas have two children.

From Florence, S.C., ISABEL WILLIAMSON Smith writes that she is a housewife. Her husband, Stephen, is an architect. They have one son.

JENNIFER McHUGH Haase is a homemaker and volunteers for her church and various other activities. Her husband, David, is an associate professor in physics at North Carolina State University. Jennifer has recently taken up jazzercise. David and Jennifer have one son and reside in Raleigh, N.C.

From Raleigh, N.C., JULIE MARSHALL Davis writes that she is still teaching first grade and is busy with her family and the Junior League. She and her husband, Walter, have two children.

MARY MURRIN Painter is the founder of the Virginia Wildflower Society and has recently stepped down from her three year term as charter president. She and her husband have two sons and reside in Annandale, Va.

NANCY WINTERS Moore is a self-employed tax accountant and her husband is a self-employed wholesale indoor foliage grower and broker. They have two children and reside in Apopka, Fla.

LILA CALDWELL Gardner, of Harrisonburg, Va., is a homemaker, but spends much of her time getting her two children to various activities. She also enjoys spending time at her Bible study, teaching at the Christian Youth Club at her church, basketweaving, playing golf and doing yard work. Her husband, Douglas, is the owner and sales manager of a poultry supply company.

CATHY HENDERSON is a self-employed consultant on higher education research issues. Her husband, Gary Stein, is an attorney. They have two children and reside in Silver Spring, Md.

JANE SHORTELL Nelson, of Wilmington, De., is a housewife and volunteers at the library and elementary school. Her husband, Stephen, is the vice-president of Artisans' Savings Bank. They have two children.

SUSAN HOCH Crane is a housewife and husband, Warren, is a market analyst. They have one child and reside in Alexandria, Va.

ELLEN PORTER Holtman and husband, Roger, have two children and reside in Roanoke, Va. Ellen is a homemaker and Roger is the editor of a newspaper for Times-World Corporation.

From Nantucket, Mass., WELBY COX Kuratek writes that she is a housewife and husband, Robert, is the president of Nantucket Restaurant Associates. They have two children.

BABS PAGE is the Coordinator of Training Materials and Program Development for Burroughs Wellcome, a pharmaceutical company. She has recently built her own home on six acres in the countryside of Apex, N.C.

KATHERINE BLACKWELL Roach, of Richmond, Va., is the Supervisor of Classification and Compensation for Henrico County. Her husband, Kenneth, is a school psychiatrist for Chesterfield County. They have two children.

MARSHA SPEARS is the Budget/Management Analyst for the City of Alexandria. Her husband, David Duncan, works for the Texas Government. They have one son and reside in Alexandria, Va.

ROBIN SPENCE and husband, Shipley Lucas, reside in Baltimore, Md. Robin is a dietician and Shipley is a contractor. They have one son.

CLASS NOTES

From Wilmington, N.C., CAROLINE STRUTHERS writes that she is a lawyer for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. She volunteers for boards of local legal services and family services agencies.

JANE BARTLETT Trotman, of Casar, N.C., is a manager/partner in her husband's artist/craftsman business. Jane deals with galleries and does the public relations work, while Bob does the art. They have two children.

KATHRYN JACOBS Wendell is a homemaker and husband, Charles, is a self-employed CPA. Kay has been very active on both the local and state level in the Junior Woman's Club for the past 12 years. She is currently serving as Secretary for the West Virginia Governor's Mansion Preservation Society. Kay, Charles and two children reside in Fayetteville, W.Va.

NANCY MORSE Evans, of San Antonio, Tx., is a school bus driver. Her husband, George, is a self-employed oil and gas dealer.

From Richmond, Va., MELISSA WIMBISH Ferrell is a housewife/mother and volunteers for the First Unitarian Church. Her husband, John, is a lawyer. They have one child.

LINDA WINNER Beville is a music teacher for public and private schools. Her husband, Norborne, is a lawyer. They have two children and reside in Nokesville, Va.

VIRGINIA HUFF Parker, of Hailey, Idaho, writes that she and her family enjoy skiing, hiking and the beautiful area. Her husband, Bob, is a manufacturer and retailer of fencing, houselogs and log homes. They have three children.

LLOYD CATHER Dickson, of Midlothian, Va., is a housewife and is also on the Board of Deacons for her church, PTA Board of Directors and library volunteer. Her husband, David, is the Manager of Community Services for the Commonwealth of Virginia. LLoyd and David have two children and enjoy spending as much time as possible together as a family.

ELEANOR MYERS O'Mara, of Oxford, Md., is the secretary and treasurer of her family farm, Plhimmon Farms Inc. Her husband, Gerald, is a farmer with the same. "Tot" spends her summers teaching sailing to the youngsters at the local yacht club. Tot and Gerald have two children.

FRAN FREEMAN Harwell is a secretary/receptionist at a law firm and also works for ETOH, a biotech firm that builds ethanol plants, where her husband works. They reside in Birmingham, Ala.

SUSIE STUART Blair is a free lance writer in Moretown, Vt., and her husband is a self-employed contractor. They have three children, Frazier, Shannon, and Tanner.

KATHY TERRELL Svejnar of Ithaca, N. Y., is a research associate at Cornell University. Her husband, Jan, is associate professor of economics at Cornell. They have two children, Daniel and Laura.

CLARA MacKENZIE Smiley of Dallas, Texas, is a housewife and mother of two, Taylor and Caroline. Her husband, Stephen, is a banker with CITICORP.

BETTY JO McCLIMANS Moses is an artist and art instructor. She works with enameled jewelry, paintings, and metal work combined with enamel. Her husband, James, is a developer with Allison, Moses, and Redden. They have two children, Jamie, and Christopher, and live in Little Rock, Ark.

From Gloucester, Va., MARY-BACON JOHNSON Williams writes that they enjoy their home in the country. She is a part-time guidance counselor for an intermediate school alternative program in York County. Her husband, Don is with BASF in Williamsburg. They have two children, James and Megan.

KAREN KELLY Hartley and husband, Brad, are still living in Villa Rica, Ga., just outside of Atlanta. Brad works for Bell South Services and Karen has quit there after 15 years to spend more time with their children, Jenny, Michael, and Brian.

SUSAN BERNOUDY Lebowitz of Dallas, Texas, stays busy with three children, her home, Junior League, church, garden club, etc. She even finds a little time for tennis and travel.

ANN ALLEN of Arlington, Va., is a paralegal assistant with Wender, Murase, and White.

'72

ELAINE HENDERSON Fowler, of Camden, S.C., was recently elected to be the chairman of the South Carolina Bar House of Delegates for the next two years.

CONNIE SAMSONOFF Martenstein resides in Richmond, Va., and is a housewife and mother. Her husband, Thomas, is on the associate council of Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Virginia. They have three children.

JILL KIELY McKenzie is currently area credit manager for American Hospital Co. Between covering four states for her job and raising two children, she finds life far from dull. She resides in Columbus, Ohio.

LINDA RABER Jahnig, husband David, children, Morgan and Lindsay, live in Chattanooga, Tenn., where she is active in the Junior League, the Hunter Art Museum, and Cub Scouts.

JANIE DAVIS Flournoy has recently been appointed to the mayor's Futureshape Committee, which is charged with the responsibility of planning and shaping the future of Shreveport, La.

From Elizabethton, Tenn., MARGARET ANNE RITCHIE Bentley writes that she is a member of the Community Handbell Choir. Her husband is managing the family furniture store. They have three children, Rachel, Aaron, and Andrew.

SARAH CROCKETT Eggleston of Glen Ridge, N. J., is working part-time for a Wall Street bank in the marketing area. The children, Paige and Cary, occupy the rest of her time and energy, along with stockbroker husband, John.

LIBBY DARWIN Grobmyer of Little Rock, Ark., is doing volunteer work and working on a master's degree in public history. Libby and Mark have three sons, Jack, Andrew, and Mark.

JULIA ANDREWS Allen of Champlain, Va., is teaching math, science, and computer programming at the school her children, Robert and Kate, attend.

'73

From Roanoke, Va., DIANA PHINNEY Draper writes that she is busy working for Piedmont Airlines and husband, Bill, is busy with his propane company. They recently took a vacation aboard the NCL Norway Cruise Ship. Diana recently had a nice visit with LIZ SIMONS Ficalora '74 and her husband, Michael.

MARIANNE DEALE Bach and family have recently moved to Winston-Salem, N.C.

ANNE HATFIELD Weir, of Washington, D.C., is taking time out of her career as a development finance consultant to be a full-time mother to her two children. Her husband, Howard, is an attorney.

DEMI ELSASSER Wheeler, husband, Scott, and son reside in Norfolk, Va., where Demi is working for Sovran Bank as an investment officer.

MERRI SCIBAL Polkowsky has recently moved from Turnersville, N.J., to Fairfax Station, Va.

LOSSIE NOELL Wilkinson and husband, Jay, reside in Charlottesville, Va., where Jay is a judge on the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals.

From Atlanta, Ga., KATHRYN SPENCER Quigley sends news of herself and REBECCA KEEL and her husband, Bob Lackey. Rebecca graduated from the Georgia State University Law School and has been admitted to the bar. Kathryn has completed another master's, this one in counseling from the New Seminary in New York. She is in private practice in the field of co-dependency/chemical dependency. In addition, she is assistant director of a private school in Atlanta and occasionally fills in as a teacher.

CATHERINE HOOD Kennedy and family moved into a new home about two years ago in Columbia, S. C., and she spends her free time, what there is of it, in decorating it. She is still working as an attorney and her husband is an assistant county attorney. Their children, Clayton and Jane, enjoy living close to a park with tennis courts and a ball field.

'74

NINA CORY Nixon, of Louisville, Ky., writes that she enjoys her two daughters and traveling with her husband, Ted. Ted is with his family's manufacturing business which produces food products.

ELIZABETH READ-Connole, of North Chevy Chase, Md., was a member of the research team who discovered the AIDS virus. She is now working on the vaccine. Betsy's husband is chief of oral surgery at Washington Hospital Center. They have two children.

MARIE DIENST Perry has just recently served as chairman for the 1986 Junior League Follies in Augusta, Ga., and still finds time for tennis. Marie's husband, Pat, is a C.P.A. and they have four children, Pat, Chris, Rob, and Kathryn.

BARBARA WATSON Baily of Richmond, Va., keeps busy with daughter, Charlotte, and her administrative work with the Virginia Eye Institute's new facility.

'75

ANNE KELSEY, of Irvine, Calif., is working as a Senior Research and Development Engineer for Ford Aerospace.

CONNIE BAK moved to Richmond, Va., in September, 1985, and is now the director of technical services at Richmond Metropolitan Blood Service. She loves Richmond and being a new home owner.

MARTHA CREASY Cutright of Martinsville, Va., is a dentist for the Danville Health Department. Husband, Barry, is also a dentist in private practice.

SARAH SPRATLING owns a gift shop, Spice and Everything Nice, in Montgomery, Ala., specializing in custom gift baskets and gourmet food. She also designs and manufactures a line of decorative wreaths.

SUSAN WILLIAMS of Richmond, Va., has recently been promoted to commercial loan officer and assistant vice-president with Jefferson National Bank.

'76

EVELYN SAWYER Diment, of Staunton, Va., is a retired teacher and Peace Corps volunteer in Paraguay. Her husband, William, is a geophysicist. After much prodding from her friends, Evelyn has decided to try and write a book. Evelyn and William have three children.

LYNN HOWARD Lawrence is a homemaker and freelance calligrapher. Husband, Robert, is a U.S. Naval officer. Lynn and Robert have recently moved to Norfolk, Va., from New Orleans and are enjoying renovating an older home. They have two children.

SUSAN DUGAN Weinig writes from Potomac, Md., that she is a health care consultant. She volunteers for the administration and education council and her church. Her husband, William, is a program analyst for the U.S. Department of Energy.

ZOE WAVELL Gottlich is a marketing representative for Polaroid Corporation. Her husband, Mark, is a sales representative for Tom James Clothing Company. They recently traveled to the Greek Islands, Yugoslovia and Italy. Zoe is an avid racquetball player and windsurfer. Zoe and Mark live in Corpus Christi, Tx.

LYNDA YOUNG Kaffie, of Corpus Christi, Tx., is in commercial real estate and a volunteer for the Texas Arts Alliance and Texas Institute for Arts in Education. Husband, Harcus, is a rancher.

MARY KAY SCHORN Stainback is a pharmacist and volunter for the American Heart Association and March of Dimes. Her husband, Jack, is a sales representative for Gray Bar Electric Company. They have one son and reside in Richmond, Va.

CLAIRE COLBERT is a caterer and waitress in Richmond, Va., where she resides.

MARY BENNETT Decker, of Plano, Tx., is a homemaker. She volunteers as a cub scout leader and as the church league women's basketball coach. Her husband, KD, is a electrical engineer. They have one son.

DANA LECKIE is a rehabilitation coordinator. She is involved with United Methodist Women and Jaycee Women. She recently took a year off from work to work and sail on a boat. She found that this was valuable time for self-growth and learning. Dana resides in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

RENEE TRENT, of Springfield, Va., is a political appointee for the U.S. Department of Justice in Washington, D.C.

PRISCILLA BECHTER Lewis, of Arlington, Va., is the patient representative/volunteer coordinator for Arlington Hospital. Her husband, Brooke, is a lawyer.

CORRINE WHITE Llewellyn is a homemaker and husband, Ron, is a pharmaceutical representative for A.H. Robins. Corrine and Ron enjoy traveling and buying old houses and fixing them up. They have also become part owners in a video store. They have one daughter.

SUSAN SWEARINGEN Rosapepe, of Ceiba, Puerto Rico, is an aerobics instructor for the U.S. Navy Department of Morale, Welfare and Recreation. Her husband, Jay, is supply officer for the U.S. Navy. They have one daughter.

From South Boston, Va., MARCIA EVANS Gravitt writes that she is a school social worker. Her husband, Carlton, is a tobacco auctioneer and contractor.

VALERIE SUTTON Payne, of Waynesboro, Va., is a homemaker, but volunteers for the Waynesboro Hospital Auxiliary Board and the garden club. Her husband, Charles, is a dispensing optician. They have two children.

Living in Richmond, Va., SHIRLEY McDOWELL Douglas is currently an R.N. in a cardiac step-down unit at Richmond Memorial Hospital. Before returning to Richmond, she was a First Lieutenant in the Delaware Air National Guard as a Flight Nurse.

ELIZABETH KINCAID Crosby and family have recently moved to Marietta, Ga.

ANN MUNGER Stewart and husband Henry reside in Villanova, Penn., where Ann is working as a critical care nurse in the surgical intensive care unit at Presbyterian-University of Pennsylvania Medical Center.

CATHY SHANER Carlock, of Richmond, Va., is a social worker at Children's Hospital. Her husband, Craig, is a sales representative for Caskie Paper Company. They have one son.

KAREN McCONNELL Daniel, of Savannah, Ga., is a housewife and volunteers for the Hospice of Savannah, Oatland Island Education Center, medical auxilary and her church. Her husband, Fred, is a physician. They have one son.

From Clinton, N.C., MABEL FETTERMAN Held writes that she is the treasurer of The Lundy Packing Company. Her husband, Louis, is a project engineer for the same.

PRINCE CARR Norfleett, of Richmond, Va., is a certified public accountant. Her husband, Edward, is a financial analyst. Margaret volunteers for her church and the junior league. They have one daughter.

TERRI POWELL Paguibitan and husband, Gaudeacio, reside in Marietta, Ga., where Terri is a sales consultant for a restaurant and hospitality chain and Gaudeacio is the regional manager for Kimberly-Clark. They have one child.

DONNETTE MORGAN Towns is a position analyst for Carolina Power and Light Company. Her husband, Matthew, is the vice-president of corporate loan administration for Wachovia Bank and Trust. They have one son.

CLASS NOTES

VICKIE REYNOLDS Akelman, of Barrington, R.I., is the senior vice president of corporate cash management for National Westminster Bank, USA. She also volunteers for the United Way. Her husband, Edward, is a hand surgeon. They have one son.

MARJORIE SANNER Fagge is a homemaker in Slidell, La., and finds time for tennis, volunteer work at her children's school, and is active in her church. Her husband, Norman, is a geologist and they have two children, Alice and Megan.

MARY ANN NABER Beacham is a self-employed renovations contractor in Hammond, La. She is active in the Columbia Theatre Players, Junior Auxiliary, and the Hammond Cultural. Her husband, William, is a physician.

JANE ELLEN DISHER of Plainsboro, N. J., is a management development specialist with First Fidelity Bank. She is a member of the board of directors, Middlesex-Somerset Union Chapter of American Institute of Banking.

CHRISTIE McLAUCHLAN of Cockeysville, Md., is a school psychologist with the Baltimore city public schools.

NANCY BROWN LAWLER Milam is a homemaker in Greenville, Miss. Her husband is an attorney, and they have two children, Graham and Searcy.

LISA IRELAND Long is a homemaker in Augusta, Ga., and mother of two, Hugh and Samuel. Lisa is active in various activities at the children's school and her church. Her husband, Hugh, is senior vice-president of Georgia Railroad Bank and Trust Company.

PAM HOLLINGS McConnell stays busy in Charlestoo, S.C. She is working on her thesis for a master's degree and taking care of daughter, Elizabeth Anne. Her husband, Bright, is an orthopaedic surgeon and recently completed a sports medicine fellowship.

ELEANOR (Chad) GUBBINS Moore is living in Broken Arrow, Okla., and is national sales coordinator for TanData Corp. Her husband, Dwight, is a sales representative for Pitney Bowes. They have one child, Meredith.

MEREDITH ANN CROLIUS Handley and family recently moved to Tampa, Fla. Her husband is an internist. They have two children, Kristen and Ross.

ALICE McCAA Kelly of Kill Devil Hills, N. C., is bar manager at Owens Restaurant at Nags Head. She enjoys fishing and running.

PEGGY BRYSON Altman of Dallas, Texas, is a language therapist working to retrain dyslexic students. Her husband, Jack, is a chaplain and assistant to the headmaster at the Episcopal School of Dallas. They have two children, Heyward and Charlie.

SUSAN THOMAS Bowers is a family physician in Myrtle Beach, S. C. Susan and her husband, Ford, will be moving to Chapin, S. C., in the near future where they will be joining another physician. Ford, a physician also, will be working full-time and Susan will be working part-time only so she can be with their son, Ford Thomas.

LINDA BLOXOM Grabeman is a buyer for a dress boutique in Georgetown, S. C. Her husband, David, is a dentist.

ZOE ANN FEARON of Virginia Beach, Va., was recently awarded a master's degree in education from CBN University.

'77

MELISSA RHODES McCue, of Gainsville, Va., is working in financial tracking and analysis at Bell Atlantic in Arlington, Va. Her husband, Tom, is teaching finance and real estate at George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

CLAUDIA WOODY, of Austin, Tex., is the Assistant Athletic Director at the University of Texas. In March, 1985, she directed the NCAA Women's Basketball National Championships.

DEBBIE WOLFE Shea, of Dumas, Ark., recently visited with MARTHA LYNCH Smith '77, MARY CLARK McBurney '77, ELIZABETH TAYLOR '77, KAREN WEYHER Gavigon '77 and LAURA PRICE Dixon '78.

MELANIE GOFF and husband, Keith Rivenbark, reside in Greenville, N.C. Melanie is with Freshway Food Stores, Inc., and Keith is a jeweler.

Since moving from Virginia to Aspen, Colo. four years ago, ELLEN COWAN Compton has married and had a baby girl named Catherine. Ellen works part-time for a ski wear company.

FRANCES LAWRENCE has opened an antique and gift shop in Dallas, Texas, which keeps her very busy.

After five years in California, LIBBY TUCKER Albriton and her family have moved to Dallas, Texas. Husband, Ben, will be finishing his internship and setting up a practice in clinical psychology. Libby's full-time job is their three boys.

GINGER DINOS Reed and husband, Dan, are living in Atlanta, Ga., with their two sons, Daniel and Matt.

KATHY McCAIN Lee and family live in Atlanta, Ga., where she is chairman of the Atlanta Junior League's Follies, "Peachtree Pizzazz" which will take place in February 1987.

KATHERYNE BLACKSHER Ward is working as a paralegal in Mobile, Ala. Her husband is vice-president of a shopping center development company.

SUSAN WHITLOW Meadows is a full-time mother and homemaker in Opelika, Ala. Her husband is a banker and they have three children, Maggie, Jennifer, and Price.

DIANE HEPFORD Lenahan of Clarks Point, Pa., is employed as staff attorney for the Federal Government. Her husband, John, is an attorney affiliated with his family's firm.

SUSAN SWECKER of Richmond, Va., was recently appointed as the Democratic Party's executive director. She has been an active participant in Democratic politics, including chairman of the Augusta County Democratic Committee and a member of the State Central Committee.

'78

The wedding of CAROL PAUL to Peter Powell was a mini reunion for a few members of the class of '78. Members of Cappy's wedding included her sister ANNE PAUL '82, CATHERINE McKENNEY Harris '78, ELISABETH TRUETT Greenbaum '78, KATHERINE FOWLKES '78 and SARAH ZEANAH Sanders '78. Cappy received her masters degree in Urban and Regional Planning from Virginia Commonwealth University last May. Cappy and Peter reside in Kansas City, Mo.

ANN SNELL McNeil works as director of Intergovernmental Assistance for Sen. LLoyd Bentsen. She and husband, Gary, and son reside in Austin, Tx.

KATHY BALLEW Bowen lives in Columbia, S. C., and works for Blue Cross/Blue Shield of South Carolina.

LISA HOEFER Ward recently opened a new office for her business, Household Personnel Consultants, Inc., specializing in child care and housekeeping. Her business and son keep her quite busy. Lisa and family live in Atlanta, Ga.

MARY STEWART WELLS has moved back to Atlanta, Ga., after six years in New York City.

CLAIRE McCANTS Schwann is director of admissions at The National Center for Paralegal Training and Hank is a sales manager with Johnson and Johnson in Atlanta, Ga.

CARROLL McCAUSLAND Amos of Lynchburg, Va., daughter, and husband luckily survived being hit head-on in a car accident in May. Daughter, Sallie, was in her car seat and not hurt. Carroll says, "I am now a firm believer in seat belts—too late!"

'79

GAYLA McCLELLAND Lemmon, of Pataskala, Ohio, is a legal secretary. She and husband, Ted, recently restored a 150 year old farmhouse. They have one child.

LYNNE MARIE KREGER Frye and husband, Mark, reside in Antioch, Tenn., where Mark works for Circuit City, Inc.

There were a few MBC girls in the wedding party at CYNTHIA LUCK's marriage to Shep Haw. Included in the wedding party were KATHY McCAIN Lee '77, ANN DODD '78, LALLY LACY Jennings '78, PATRICIA BULLOCK Barton '78 and JANE HARCUS Hill '79. She and Shep are moving to High Point, N. C. this summer.

NANCY WILSON has been living in Rochester, N. Y., for five years and does social work with adolescents.

SUZI PARKER Carson is doing great in Atlanta, Ga.! Suzi is a travel agent and does volunteer work for the High Museum of Art and the Atlanta Historical Society. Husband, Mark, is a broker for E. F. Hutton.

ELLEN UNDERWOOD is a public communications specialist for the Southwest Florida Water Management District in Brooksville, Fla.

MIMI MYER Hurst is a vice-president with T. J. Raney and Sons, Inc., in Little Rock, Ark. Her interests include cooking, travel, and volunteer work in her community.

'80

SUZANNE EUDY Backus is busy with her active son, high school alumnae board and various volunteer groups. She and her family reside in Alexandria, Va.

LYNN TUGGLE Gilliland, of Charlotte, N.C., is the manager of disbursement services at First Union. She enjoys her job and Charlotte.

TRUDY MARTIN Manning and Butch are living in Norfolk, Va. Trudy was recently elected president of the Tidewater Art Therapy Association. She continues to work as an art therapist and Butch works as a project engineer.

SHERRILL FEAGANS Jack and her husband recently moved from Kansas City to an area outside of Princeton, N. J. Her husband was transferred by the Department of Justice and is based in New York City.

MARGARET DUDLEY Alford is a copy editor at the Lexington Herald-Leader in Lexington, Ky.

MARTHA PHILPOTT sends news of her marriage to Tracy King in October 1985. MBC alumnae attending were JUDY MAUZE Philpot '68, JEAN MAUZE Wheless '80, LYNDA HARRISON Meredith '80, TRUDY CASKIE Porter '80, MARGARET CHAPMAN '80 and CINDY WILSON Shoemaker '80. Martha and Tracy live in Durham, N. C. She is a senior human resources representative with Crum and Forster Personal Insurance and he is an account representative with Prime Time Publications.

KATHERINE JACKSON Anderson of Columbia, S. C., has completed courses in commercial interior design. Her husband is in pharmacy school at U.S.C.

'81

PAMELA POPE, of Washington, D.C., is a full-time law student at Howard University.

KAY BARONEY is a private duty nurse in Rochester, N.Y., where she resides. She has three children.

KATHRYN GRAVELY Melo of Annapolis, Md., is a kindergarten teacher and Red Cross volunteer. Her husband, Michael, is a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy.

From Richmond, Va., KATHY BARRANGER writes that she is a sales representative for Barranger and Company, Inc., a building specialties firm. Kathy volunteers for the Jaycee's National Association of Women in Construction.

CATHY MOREY Nee runs a day care center and husband, Gerard, is a tax manager. They have one daughter and live in Somerville, N.J.

FRANCES HARRIS Mcan of Charles City, Va., is a kindergarten teacher. Her husband, Joseph, is a student at William and Mary Law School.

NITA ANN KNIGHT Skeader of Savannah, Ga., is a tour desk coordinator for the Historic Savannah Foundation. She volunteers for various organizations such as Savannah Speech and Hearing, Georgia Conservancy and Parents Anonymous. Her husband, John, is an insurance executive.

CAROL LYNN MANI Williamson, of San Antonio, Tx., is an investment advisor. Her husband, Neal, is the territory manager for Stanadyne Corporation.

From Atlanta, Ga., LISA SAUL writes that she is a hair stylist and make-up artist.

FLEET LYNCH Roberts is a sales representative for a bookkeeping and accounting supply company. Her husband, Dennis, is the paving superintendent for a paving company. They reside in Richmond, Va.

REBECCA VIGIL Gubert resides in Orlando, Fla., where she is a chemist for the Environmental Protection Laboratory. Her husband, Alexander, is the Southeast Service and Sales representative for Valcon, an irrigation business.

HAZEL STILLEY Ocheltree and husband, John, reside in Staunton, Va. Hazel is a loan processor for Jefferson National Bank and John is a podiatrist. They have one son.

RUBY WORLEY, of Glasgow, Va., is the department head of Joseph Davidson, Inc., a clothing store.

From Nashville, Tenn., ELIZABETH STUMB Woodring writes that she is the office coordinator and designer for The Closet Company. Her husband, Warren, is a commercial loan officer for a bank.

TRACEY BORING Zebedeo, of Virginia Beach, Va., enjoys staying home with her two children and being active in her church.

From Bonners Ferry, Id., CAROL BORING Sweeney writes that she and her husband, Joe, and son live on a small farm, where they have two ponies.

OLIVIA KINCAID, of Craigsville, Va., was ordained as a minister in the Presbyterian Church last November. She is now the pastor of the Craigsville Presbyterian Church.

DIANE WALCZAK Janssen, of Marlton, N.J., is a CPA-manager. Her husband, Robert, is a retail manager for CVS.

From Jacksonville, Fla., KIM HERRING writes that she is in the administration of a wholesale foods and seafood company. Originally from Charlottesville, Va., Kim likes to return to the area as often as possible.

MARY WRAY WIGGINS, of Charlotte, N.C., recently traveled to London and Belgium.

JAMIE LINDLER Pinney is working as a law clerk in Federal District Court and her husband, Reese, works as an independent petroleum geologist. They are very happy living in New Orleans, La.

ELIZABETH LAFFITTE Malinowski, writing from Estill, S. C., said recently that she was in the process of moving from Zurich, Switzerland, to Jacksonville. While in Zurich, she worked for the Chase Manhattan Bank, NA. Her husband, Jan, is vice-president in the international banking division of Barnett Banks of Florida, Inc.

LIBBA SCHMIDT Alexander is enjoying spring in Jacksonville, Fla. Her husband is a pilot with the United States Navy.

From Atlanta, Ga., WINN PRICE Sams writes that she is a financial consultant with Cigna Financial Services. Her husband, Gus, is a municipal bond broker with Garvin Brokers.

REBECCA SMITH Wirt is a homemaker in Roanoke, Va., and mother of Barry Edward.

CLASS NOTES

BETSY CUNDIFF Atwood is the art director for Commercial Screen Graphics, a small silk screen printing company in Atlanta, Ga. Husband, Jeff, is currently attending Georgia Tech.

ALICE STEVENS Marshall and family live in Richmood, Va.

VALERIE WENGER lives in Dallas, Texas, and is an attorney with the United States Trustee's Office which supervises all bankruptcies filed in the Northern District of Texas.

HILLARY WOOD Zeno is a self-employed interior designer in Stevens Point, Wisc., and her husband is vice-president of sales with Joerns Furniture Company.

CHRIS CROTTS Wynne is a housewife in High Point, N. C., and her husband, Gary, is a sales representative with Roadway Express, Inc. Chris is on the board of directors of the High Point Mental Health Association, is the media relations chairman for the Henredon Classic, and is a member of the Junior League of High Point.

ANN REED Wolven lives in Amherst, Va., and is a newspaper reporter for the Amherst-Nelson Publishing Company. She won the Virginia Press Award for sports writing in 1984 and placed first in general news and second for her story and photograph in 1985. She is a member of the Virginia Press Womeo. Her husband, Gregory, is an electrical engineer. They are currently renovating a 15-room plantation house built in 1867.

BETH FISHER Remley is a wife and mother of three living in Amarillo, Texas. Frank is a merchandising manager working for Cargill, Inc. Their childreo are Allison, Rachel, and Frank.

COURTNEY LESTER Procter is a sales representative for Spectator Publications in Raleigh, N. C., and her husband is in commercial real estate. Courtney lists her volunteer activities as the United Way, United Cerebral Palsey, and "A Toast to the Triangle."

REBECCA LINGER Nolte lives in Charleston, W. Va., and is vice-president of Kingsgate Films, Inc. Her husband, Nicholas, is an actor with Kingsgate Films.

NANCY PRICE Porter is a paralegal in Jackson, Miss. Her husband is in insurance. MBC bridesmaids in their wedding included KATHE WILLIAMS Hetzer '80, BETSY CUNDIFF Atwood '81, PAM McCAIN Pearce '81, and MISSY PRICE '87.

SARAH BETH SNEAD Lankford of Tampa, Fla., is assistant vice-president for corporate banking with NCNB National Bank. She is active in the Junior League. Her husband is vice-president, corporate banking manager with NCNB. They are having fun fixing up their townhouse.

PAMELA HUNZIKER is a vocational rehabilitation counselor with Vocational Counseling Associates. She lives in Arlington, Va.

MINDY ROSE Eichorn of South Salem, N. Y., is a retail florist with Oakridge Flower Shop, Inc. Her husband, Bill, is a marketing representative with I.B.M. Their son is William, nicknamed B.J.

MARILYN BUIST lives in Charleston, S. C., and is a field representative with Marketing Outreach, Inc.

SUSAN SHERMAN Couch is a homemaker in Roanoke Rapids, N. C., and mother of Brian and Courtnay. Susan is active in her church and the Junior Woman's Club. Her husband, Donald, is an engineer with Champion International.

JANET DAVIES lives in Washington, D. C., where she is an account executive with MSL, Inc. Janet is active in the Metro Area MBC Alumnae Chapter and the American Association of University Women.

KATHRYN GRAVELY Melo and husband live in Annapolis, Md., where she teaches at a private nursery kindergarten. Her husband is a company officer at the Naval Academy.

NANCY BROYLES recently left the Trust Company Bank and has joined a commercial real estate firm in Atlanta, Ga., specializing in land sales and investment properties.

CLAUDIA TURNER Aycock of Houston, Texas, is active in the Junior League of Houston. She also keeps up with her antique shop work.

'82

LYNN BURNS Brooke of Richmond, VA., has opeoed her own business, an exercise studio called "Contours." Lynn and her partner developed quite a successful business with lots of MBC graduates as clients.

ROZALIND FOREMAN works at Humana, Inc., for the group health divisioo in Louisville, Ky. She works with sales of insurance and HMO products.

MARABLE SOUTHALL Wise of Richmond, Va., is attending Union Theological Seminary and is a certified candidate for the ministry from the Staunton District, Virginia Conference, United Methodist Church. She has enjoyed being at the Seminary, but is looking forward to a challenging future in parish ministry.

'83

RHONDA FOREMAN is living in New York, N.Y. and working for RCA Records. She traveled to Hoog Kong in January and February.

From Winston-Salem, N.C., JANE OWEN writes that she is in her second year at Babock Graduate School of Management at Wake Forest University.

STEPHANIE IRVING Adams and her husband moved to Lancaster, Calif., in November and moved into their new home in time for Christmas. They enjoyed a leisurely trip driving across country and seeing the sights.

LYNN MARTIN Appel, of Dover, De., is working as the manager of the Deleware Motor Club's Dover office. She and her husband, Peter, have one daughter.

NORA MAYS Saunders and husband, Chuck, reside in Richmond, Va. Since her graduation from MBC, Nora has been teaching kindergarten in the Richmond area. Chuck is vice-president of finance and administrative services for the Richmond Farm Credit Association.

AMY HALL of Charlottesville married Steven Troy Jackson in August 1985. MARY BARTELLONI '83 was a bridesmaid. Amy recently graduated from U.Va. with a master's in elemeotary education.

BECKY WAALEWYN Traylor of Staunton, Va., is working in the Development Office at MBC. Becky and Kevin have two children, Brandon and Ben.

SANDY SHUFELT of Woodbridge, Va., is working for Triple A in Falls Church and enjoys it very much.

EMILY SHORE lives in Carrboro, N. C., and recenaly received her J.D. from the University of North Carolina School of Law. After taking the North Carolina bar, Emily will move to Charlotte to work.

GEORGIANNE MILLER has moved to Falls Church, Va., where she is working for Dictaphone Corporation.

COURTNAY LYNNE WOODMAN is teaching in the Alexandria, Va., public school system and loving it! She will be spending the summer of '86 in Europe.

From Charlottesville, Va., JILL ANN JOHNSON writes that she is working on her master's degree in special education at U.Va. and hopes to finish in May 1987 with an endorsement in learning disabilities and emotioual disturbance.

Zebulon Record staff writer TARA HUMPHRIES was recently honored for sports writing during the 61st annual Newspaper Institute sponsored by the North Carolina Press Associatioo. Tara's article oo academic rules for high school athletes woo a third place award in sports writing for weekly newspapers. Her main duties have been covering sports and school news, but she also writes news and feature articles, as well as an editorial page column, "Just A Pinch." Tara lives in Middlesex, N. C.

'84

ANN GLADWELL Miller and husband, Ken, reside in Silver Spring, Md. Ann is an environmental chemist with Hittman-Ebasco Association, Inc. Ken is the district representative for Aid Association for Lutherans.

JERIANNE FITZGERALD is living in New York, N.Y., and is working in public relatioos.

LAURA WILSON Young of Little Rock, Ark., is an analtical chemist.

From Madison, Va., EDGAR PURYEAR writes that he is currently studying travel at the National Business College in Charlottesville.

PAMELA DAVIS Blevins is living in Buena Vista, Va., and is a third grade teacher.

JULIE SLAVIK lives in Decatur, Ga., and is attending Georgia State University–Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. Julie was recently made a producer at the Emory medical television network.

MARIA SANTUCCI of New Bedford, Mass., is working with Femic, Inc., a jewelry importer manufacturer.

LYNLEY ROSANELLI lives in Atlanta, Ga., and is a leasing assistant of commercial real estate with Robinson-Humphrey Properties.

EDNA-LOUISE REMINGTON of Virginia Beach, Va., is a free-lance artist/photographer and writes that her own business is doing well. She also does soft sculpture, designs, makes dresses, and does illustrations.

RENEE OLANDER and her husband, Dudley Watson, live in Norfolk, Va., where she is employed by Sovran Bank, N.A. Dudley is a field service technician with Executive Productivity Systems/Landmark Cominunications.

JANET ANDREWS Meltoo lives in Staunton, Va., and is a developmental technician at the DeJarnette Center. Her husband, Mark, teaches at Brownsburg Middle School.

JESSICA MEEKINS is a real estate agent with Goodman, Segar, and Hogan in Virginia Beach, Va.

CHERYL GARRETT lives in Richmond, Va., and is a financial data analyst with Federal Reserve Bank. She has also beeo teaching aerobics classes and singing in her church choir.

SAUNDRA EARECKSON lives in Houston, Texas, and is attending the University of Texas Medical School.

PATRICIA BYRD of Alexandria, Va., is a communications technician with AT&T.

SUSAN LEHMANN Griffin lives in Richmond, VA., and is a regional consultant/state training coordinator with the State of Virginia. Husband, Russell, is a territory sales representative for 84 Lumber.

SALLY NEWSHAM Inglis and her husband, John, have been living in Edinburgh, Scotland, but are planning to return to New Orleans in the near future.

LEE BEAL is living in Charlotte, N. C., and is assistant to the president of the Southeast regional headquarters of Beacon Construction Company, a subsidiary of the Bechtel Group. Lee also handles public relations.

AIMIE ELLIOTT is working with children and young adults who have dyslexia in Houston, Texas. She is planning to move back to Virginia in the near future.

KELLY PHELPS of Danville, Va., was elected secretary of the Danville Jaycees in April 1986 and was selected as an Outstanding Young Woman of America in January 1985. Kelly is currently employed by the Memorial Hospital as an intravenous technician.

'85

LESLIE JIVIDEN recenily visited Arizona, West Virginia, France, Switzerland and England. She is currently working for Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporatioo. She resides in Springfield, Va.

ANNE WARE joined the paralegal staff of Hunton and Williams, located in Richmood, Va., in October, 1985.

AMY CUOMO has recently moved to Syracuse, N.Y.

KATHERINE GROVE, of Fredericksburg, Va., is working in the Executive office for Management, Personnel Management Division, United States Department of State in Washington, D.C.

JOANNE MOORE, of Concord, Va., has recently been promoted to buyer for Babcox and Wilcox.

CYNTHIA WOOD is working towards a Ph.D. in chemistry at Rice University.

IN MEMORIAM

NANNIE FULTON '03, April 9, 1986.

MARY LeGRAND McCandlish '06, January 29, 1986.

ALICE GRAHAM Bedinger '14, April 3, 1986.

BETTY SOMERVILLE Montgomery '17, March 31, 1986.

ANNA FRAZER '20, November 21, 1985.

ANNE ALVIS Bodie '25, April 20, 1986.

MARIE MACDONALD Rouse '29, April 27, 1986.

EDITH SPINKS Conker '30, May, 1985.

MARION RAGAN Taylor '31, January 27, 1986.

FRANCES THOMAS '33, October 13, 1985.

SALLY RUHE Ruhf '33, January 11, 1986.

DORIS COVILLE Robins '34, April 23, 1985.

MARGARET BROWN Williams '40, January 10, 1986.

NANCY ADAIR Delano '42, February 9, 1986

FRANCES MORTON Sumner '52, October, 1985.

JOANE TANNEHILL '55, May 19, 1986.

BEVERLY BISHOP Tanner '57, April 7, 1986.

SUSAN GREY '68, May 17, 1986.

DARCELL TODD '81, April 8, 1986.

HUNTER DRAPER '83, February 3, 1986.

BIRTHS

SUZANNE SMITH Williams '68 and Robert, a soo, Andrew David, April 24, 1986.

BEKAH KENNEDY Caruso '69 and Bill, a son, Paul Glenn, August 23, 1985.

JUDY GALLOWAY Totaro '69 and husband, a soo, J. Price, September 27, 1985.

KATHY TERRELL Svejnar '71 and Jan, a daughter, Laura Christina, February 17, 1986.

KIT MEDBURY Benned '72 and Gary, a soo, David, and a daughter, Tegwyn, March 9, 1986.

MELANIE GAMBLE Walker '72 and Robert, a soo, Robert Bradshaw, January 7, 1986.

SHEPARD JOHNSTON Cbuites '72 and Doug, a soo, Carsoo, March 9, 1986.

MARIANNE DEALE Bach '72 and Thomas, a son, Peter, October 16, 1985.

KATHLEEN THOMASSON Bagby '73 and Tom, a soo, Matthew Taylor, December 30, 1984.

SUSAN DIBRELL Miller '73 and Gary, a daughter, Susan Dibrell, August 17, 1985.

REBECCA KEEL Lackey '73 and Bob, a daughter, Allie Fair, August 22, 1985.

CARROLL ROYER Robertsoo '73 and Raymood, a soo, Anthooy Thomas, September 27, 1985.

SHELLY WILGUS Murray '73 and Tom, a soo, Thomas Martin, March, 1986.

MARY JULIA'S CUPBOARD

CAROL HUTCHINS Nietmann '74 and husband, a daughter, Anna Atherton, December 7, 1985.

ANNE MERRY Bell '75 and Dennis, a son, Bryan Alan, March 19, 1986.

BONNIE McDONALD Ball '77 and Ron, a daughter, Wendy Ellen, July 10, 1984.

DONNA ROBERT MacNabb '77 and Steve, a son, Ryan Hillsinger, October 12, 1985.

KAREN WEYHER Gavigan '77 and Frank, a son, John Francis, January 25, 1986.

ELIZABETH BRUNI Downey '77 and John, a daughter, April 21, 1986.

AMY ADKINS Augustine '80 and Carter, a son, Carter Pendleton, March 15, 1986.

SUSAN COWAN Emrick '80 and Steven, a daughter, Sarah Ann, February 16, 1985.

MELISSA RAIDER Keahey '80 and David, a son, Walter Blanks, December 20, 1985.

CATHERINE MOREY Nee '81 and Gerard, a daughter, Laura Anne, June 25, 1985.

MARTHA FERRELL Thornhill '81, a daughter, Sydney Erin, February 21, 1985.

FLEET LYNCH Roberts '81 and Dennis, a daughter, Courtney Fleet, March 4, 1986.

SUSAN SHERMAN Couch '81 and Don, a daughter, Courtnay Paige, June 30, 1985.

MARTHA OBRIEN '83, a daughter, Martha Elizabeth, October 7, 1985.

CARRIE NELSON Cahill '83 and Chris, a daughter, Dana Lynn, March 16, 1985.

LILLIAN McCLUNG Gilbert '83 and Rick, a son, Ross Coleman, May 4, 1986.

KAY McCORD Yonts '84 and James, a son James William, III, April 17, 1986.

MARRIAGES

DEIDRE DAUGHERTY '72 to Mark Grogan, July 6, 1985.

GWENDOLYN GILLAUGH to Robert Stocklein, July 6, 1985.

FLORENCE JONES '75 to Michael Giles Rutherford, May 17, 1986.

SHEENA MACKENZIE '75 to James E. Gwin, October 5, 1985.

KATHERYNE BLACKSHER '77 to Thomas Bestor Ward, III, August 24, 1985.

MELANIE GOFF '78 to Keith Rivenbark, March 26, 1983.

CAPPY PAUL '78 to Peter Powell, October 19, 1985.

ELIZABETH GUERARD '79 to Donald Parket, May 29, 1982.

LISA MILTON '80 to Bobby Boyle, January 1, 1986.

NANCY PRICE '81 to Mark M. Porter, Jr., August 31, 1985.

NORA MAYS '83 to Charles M. Saunders, III, April 26, 1986.

KAYE MACKEY '83 to Michael Cook, January 25, 1986.

AMY MADELYN HALL '83 to Steven Troy Jackson, August 10, 1985.

SHERRY DUNCAN '84 to Ronald Miller, December 21, 1985.

PATTI NORTON '85 to David Gunter, December 21, 1985.

MOVING?

Name _____

_____ Class _____

Old Address _____

Street _____

City _____ Zip Code _____

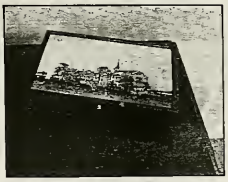
New Address _____

Street _____

City _____ Zip Code _____

New Home Phone _____

New Business Phone _____



EGLOMISE PAINTINGS ON GLASS

Each piece includes a hand-painted scene of the Administration Building and Chapel on the reverse side of the glass by Eglomise Designs of Boston. The mirror and the picture are framed in wood and leafed in silver tones. The desk box is walnut with brass fittings.

Mirror (15" × 26")	$110.00
Framed painting (10" × 15")	$ 80.00
Desk box (12" × 7" × 2")	$110.00

Add $2.00 for shipping charges

MARY BALDWIN CHAIRS

Black lacquer finish with hand-painted gold trim, featuring gold seal of the College. An engraved brass name plate can be attached to the back of the header at a nominal cost upon request. Available in five styles.

Boston rocker	$125.00
Captain's chair with black arms	$120.00
Captain's chair with cherry arms	$130.00
Side chair	$ 85.00
Child's chair	$ 65.00

Freight charges C.O.D.

MAKE MEANINGFUL THESE PASSING YEARS

A collection of campus prayers by Dr. Thomas H. Grafton. At the request of the Alumnae Association, Dr. Grafton collected these prayers for publication to represent a typical year at MBC. Limited Supply.

Price: $5.00

MARY BALDWIN NEEDLEPOINT KIT

MBC seal marked in color on 15" × 15" canvas. Persian yarn is provided for working the design. (Background yarn is not provided.)

Price $30.00

MARY BALDWIN SCARVES

The Washington Chapter has commissioned Frankie Welsh of America to design this very special scarf for Mary Baldwin alumnae. The 8" × 34" scarf features a bright green design on cream background. Send your order to Kim Baker Glenn, 704 Chetworth Place, Alexandria, VA 22314-1121. Please make check payable to Washington Chapter, MBC.

Price $18.00

MARY BALDWIN CROSS STITCH KITS

Includes full skeins of DMC floss, materials, graph, and instructions. Makes an 8" × 10" picture.

MBC Seal	$15.00
Administration Building	$15.00
Grafton Library	$15.00

Add $1.50 postage and handling.

MARY BALDWIN NOTECARDS

A package of ten notecards with an original drawing of the Administration Building by Augusta County artist Bill Haines. Envelopes included.

Price $3.00

"FROM HAM TO JAM" COOKBOOK

Contains over 500 tested recipes, all submitted by members of the Mary Baldwin family nationwide. A must in collection of beginners and experienced cooks. A unique gift item for Christmas, house-warmings, graduation, engagements, birthdays, Mother's Day. Now in its second printing.

Price: $8.95
Add $1.50 postage and handling

AN ORIGINAL PRINT BY ERIC FITZPATRICK

The Mary Baldwin Print by Eric Fitzpatrick. This signed, limited edition color print of the campus is a collector's item. $15.00 ($1.50 for postage and handling)

PEN AND INK PRINT OF ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

By Bill Haines. Size: 11" × 14".

Price: $5.00

Sold through Mary Baldwin College Alumnae Association. All proceeds are applied to the Alumnae Association Projects Fund. If you have questions concerning your order, please call the Office of Alumnae Activities: 703/887-7007.

ORDER FORM

Name: _____

Address: _____

(Telephone)

Ship to: (if different from above)

Name: _____

Address: _____

Quantity	Item and Description	Unit Price	Total Price

Make checks payable to: MARY BALDWIN COLLEGE

Send order form with check or money order to:
Mary Baldwin College
Office of Alumnae Activities
Staunton, Va. 24401

Total
Va. Residents add 4% Sales Tax
Shipping Postage and Handling Charges
GRAND TOTAL

Externing with the President

President Reagan's travel is in good hands, Mary Baldwin hands. In May of this year, Adair Lewis '89 of Greenville, Virginia competed with 25 other candidates from around the country for a summer externship in the White House Advance Office.

She was one of three college students, the others from Harvard and Washington State, chosen. Adair's reaction: "Absolutely unbelievable."

Her 10-, 11- and 12-hour days in the Old Executive Office Building are shared with mentor Marylou Skidmore, a 1979 graduate of Mary Baldwin. Marylou has been working with the Reagan-Bush administration since 1984 and originally notified the College of the possibility of an externship for just the right person. As Marylou remarked to President Tyson: "I am very proud to have a young woman from Mary Baldwin working as an intern with us."

Adair sees President Reagan occasionally ("he looks even better in person than on television") and has met Nancy Reagan. When the Reagan's make a public appearance, it is Marylou and Adair's office which handles all the plans and arrangements—down to the last detail. The final product of their work is a minute-by-minute schedule for the President, which can run up to several hundred pages for an international trip. The young, energetic staff—most in their 20's—work as a team, with the externs being important players.

Adair's role is simple—she and her two extern colleagues do everything. They are involved in every aspect of the office's management. Their prize plan is actually going on the road for one week in advance of the President "putting into action what we learned".

Working in Washington, D.C., was both an exhilarating as well as a professional experience for Adair Lewis '89 who worked as a summer extern in the White House Advance Office.

Adair's trip was to Dothan, Alabama —"very, very much Reagan country" —the peanut capital of the world and she and her entourage spent 10 days in Dothan preparing for a 1½ hour visit by the President!

An entire communications and security system had to be set up, and the advance staff did everything from planning the motorcade route to distributing flags to spectators. About 2,000 people came to a luncheon to hear Reagan speak on tax reform. Adair recalls that despite the fact that the visit totally disrupted citizens lives, Dothan was very proud. "People started crying when the President walked in," she remembers, "and he received a standing ovation."

Working in Washington is exhilarating, says the English and Spanish major, but the commuting and the crowds are a big adjustment. She is living with her brother and his wife in Arlington, Va., and rides the Metro. As for social life this summer, Adair says, "The job is my life."

Adair has found she's learned a lot about the "real world" this summer. She says Marylou and her staff make a huge effort to include the externs in everything. "My work has made me understand the word professional" she explains, adding, "I'm especially pleased to see that professionals remain civil under the worst of circumstances."

Marylou is extremely proud of the work of her fellow MBC'er. "I want to make sure that other Mary Baldwin students get this opportunity," she stresses. Who knows, the first woman President may very well be a Mary Baldwin alumna!

MARY BALDWIN
VOL. XXXV NO. 3
SUMMER 1986

Mrs. Erskine Sproul
41 Woodland Drive
Staunton
Virginia 24401